Medical Center and SIUE warn of layoffs

Up to 50 could lose SEMC jobs

The administrator of St. Elizabeth Medical Center said Thursday that rumors of layoffs at the medical center are true. She noted that up to 50 persons may be laid off and added, "It would be unfair to leave anyone with the impression that this layoff is a simple matter of a delayed reaction to the recession. This is not a temporary layoff 'until things pick up again.' There is no indication that traditional in-patient care is going to reach levels of the past."

"It's important for everyone to understand why this is happening," said Sister Mary Thomas, SEMC president.

Noting that not more than 50 persons will be laid off as many of those will be called back to some related position as soon as possible, CITING THE use of DRG's (Diagnostic Related Groups) in determining the reimbursement hospitals receive after treating Medicare patients, she explained, that the payment plan has forced a reduction in the time Medicare patients spend in the hospital for treatment, so the daily census of patients has been much lower.

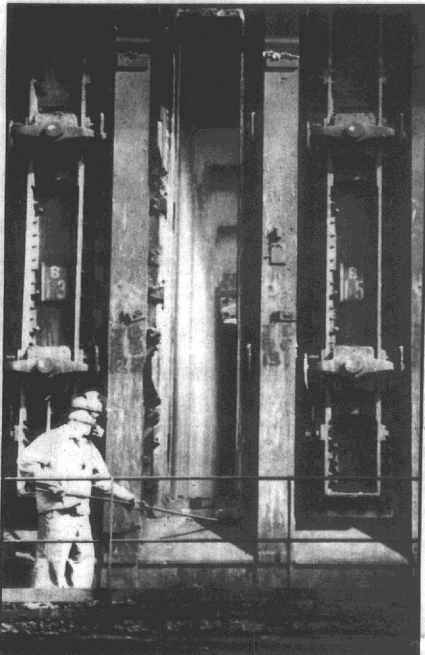

"As you've heard many times, the health care industry is changing. Some of the change is being spurred along by DRGs. Actually, we are treating a greater number of patients, but the shortened length of stay causes our daily census to be much lower."

"Another major change is that more and more businesses are changing their health plans to include deductibles or a co-insurance feature. As a result, their employees bear more of the financial responsibility for their own health care and are, therefore, more cost conscious. They are less likely to use hospital services unless they are absolutely necessary," the sister said.

"FURTHERMORE, an increasing number of companies specify that employees will not be reimbursed for certain procedures unless those procedures are done on an out-patient basis. Again, these changes mean lower in-patient census," she added.

She said the focus of health care today is moving away from "traditional in-patient acute care"

Emergency plan on June agenda

A new fiscal emergency policy for the Southern Illinois University system was considered here Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees. It may replace the one-year fiscal emergency policy provisions approved in June 1983 dealing with mandatory leaves of absence without pay for contractual employees and involuntary pay reductions for all employees.

The policy, which could be acted upon by the board in June, would affirm the authority of the board to declare a fiscal emergency and take actions to cope with the situation.

The proposed policy recognizes that a fiscal emergency may vary in degree, ranging from a temporary financial crisis to a long-term loss of resources. The terms are described in the proposal as follows:

"A short-term fiscal emergency is the condition of financial necessity, which results when a decline in financial support is such as to require a reduction within the fiscal year in the personal services budget exceeding that which may be accomplished by attrition or non-renewal of term positions of other such measures after all workable reductions in support and operational costs have been made. A long-term fiscal emergency is the condition of financial exigency, which results when an imminent financial crisis will require long-term programmatic reductions and termination of tenured faculty."

The proposed policy continues with procedural guidelines for the declaration of a fiscal emergency and the authorization of actions to deal with the problem, as well as appeal procedures for employees who may be affected.

In September, Chancellor Kenneth Shaw established the Fiscal Emergency Policies Committee to conduct a review of the one-year provisions. The committee was comprised of four persons from each campus, and Vice-Chancellor James Brown was named chairman of the group.

In February, the committee forwarded to the chancellor and the SIUE and SIUC presidents a draft policy which then was provided by the presidents to constituency groups for review. Comments from the various groups and the presidents were considered in development of the final proposal submitted to the trustees.

Board officers said they will welcome and consider additional suggestions and comments.

City sticker deadline

Granite City vehicle tax stickers are still on sale at various locations throughout the city, but the price of the stickers will increase this Wednesday.

Stickers are on sale at the City Clerk's Office in the Granite City Hall, 2000 Edison Ave., from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

DISCOUNT prices are available for senior residents, 65 and older, but these may be purchased only at the Granite City Township Hall, 2000 Delmar Ave. The hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily. Handicapped seniors also may purchase 51 discount stickers, available only at city hall.

Vehicle stickers are also being sold until Wednesday, at the First Granite City National Bank, the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, the American Heritage Bank of Granite City and the Colonial Bank of Granite City.

The stickers, other than for senior citizens or the handicapped, cost $3 for automobiles and $3 for motorcycles. Truck stickers will be based on the weight of the vehicle.

AFTER WEDNESDAY, the stickers will increase to $10 for automobiles and will go up by $5 on other vehicles.

Record Center move to Depot cancelled

The U.S. Department of the Army has withdrawn its offer of rent-free space at the former Granite City Army Depot for the Veterans Administration Records Processing Center.

The 100-employee center still may move from the federal site at 4300 Goodfellow Blvd., St. Louis, or improvements may be made there. U.S. SENATOR Jack Danforth said VA Administrator Harry Walter confirmed that the scheduled move to the U.S. Army installation here has been cancelled.

The Army gave no reason for withdrawing the proposal to house the records center in Granite City. Completion of Highway Three and the 19th Street Overpass had been cited as providing ideal access to the depot grounds from any direction.

Tax hike feared if interest distributed

By ED GURNEY

The question of whether taxing bodies were damaged by Madison County's use of interest earned on property taxes prompted some lively debate Thursday night.

County Board Member Bill Haine described it as "artificial damage." Others contended the county has taken money belonging to the local taxing districts.

THE FORUM for the brief debate was a meeting at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville of representatives of county taxing districts. The main topic of discussion was a court case that might force Madison County and all other counties in the state to refund interest they earned and kept on investing property taxes before they were distributed.

It has been estimated that Madison County might owe the taxing districts $4 million, depending on how the Illinois Supreme Court rules on a case from DuPage County.

Haine, describing himself as "the skunk of the garden party," said he was attending the meeting as a private citizen, not as an official representative of the county board.

"WHAT WORRIES me about this case is it is seen without clarity by the voters," said Haine, a Democrat from Alton.

What is at stake is the rapid distribution of tax money by the county treasurer, Haine said. "With that, I have never had a quarrel," he said. A 1976 court decision stopped counties from charging a fee to taxing bodies for the collection of taxes, Haine said. However, treasurers throughout the state interpreted the decision to mean that while they couldn't charge a fee, they could use interest earned while the money was invested, he said.

HAINES SAID it has been a tradition for counties to use the interest.

The case before the Supreme Court means counties throughout the state might have to refund interest on taxes collected since 1976.

"That looks like you'll receive a bonus," Haine said. "What worries me is each and every property owner in Madison County will be hit with a tax increase."

The cost to each taxpayer could be $50 to $100, Haine said.

THE COST of calculating how much is owed each taxing body could be monumental, he said. "The loss is not a real loss. It's a loss of opportunity to use (money) and that's to me is unjust."

That statement is what seemed to particularly irritate Collinsville Unit 10 Director of Business Affairs Jerry Vandersand. "The money the county was able to use, that money was supposed to go to support our entity," he said.

"The county used our money rather than raise taxes," Vandersand said.

Haine said he didn't disagree. And he said he would favor a law that would throw a treasurer out of office if he or she did not distribute taxes quickly. "But we're dealing with a tax increase. The taxpayers will pay for politicians' mistakes, and that is unjust," Haine said.

DON RHILL, who helped run Thursday's meeting, said those in attendance appear to agree that they don't want the taxpayers hurt and that, from this time forward, the county should distribute the interest it earns on tax money.

Rickli is an attorney for Helvetia Township and other townships in eastern Madison County.

Also chairing the meeting were Tom Buckheim, supervisor of Helvetia Township, and Norman Hall, tax collector of Nameoki Township, who are president and treasurer, respectively, of the Madison County Township Officials group.

Hall urged those in the audience to

Sentencing delayed in Brimberry trial

By PAT HAY-LUTZ

for the Press-Record

The sentencing of Granite Cityan Thomas R. Brimberry was postponed until June 1 by U.S. District Court Judge Clyde Cabell on Friday.

Convicted in April of five counts of perjury before the grand jury and two counts of attempting to conceal assets from the Stix and Co. trustee, Brimberry faces up to 35 years imprisonment. He currently is serving a 10-year sentence for obstruction of justice as the result of a previous conviction last June.

BRIMBERRY has been incarcerated since December, 1982, when he was arrested on charges of impeding the investigation into the embezzlement of $16 million from Stix and Co. brokerage firm of St. Louis. The massive fraud, admittedly masterminded by Brimberry, bankrupted the firm. Attorneys for Brimberry have indicated that they will appeal the decisions of both trials. In the meantime, federal attorneys have said that it is "very unlikely" that Brimberry and his wife, the former Janice Miller of Granite City, will be prosecuted.

Others convicted of participating in the fraud include James Massa, a Collinsville attorney; Duane Skinner, a Pontoon Beach accountant and village trustee; Arthur Miller Jr. of Granite City; Brimberry's brother-in-law, and Jerry Maera, a Madison businessman.

FINE ARTS FESTIVAL. Teri Kurtz, left, a senior at Granite City High School, works on a canvas during the Fine Arts Festival at the school Thursday night. Watching her work are brothers, Eric and Matt Foster. Eric also is a senior at GCHS and Matt is a 1971 graduate of Granite City High School South. A selection of Miss Kurtz's artwork, including still lifes, portraits and pencil drawings, is in the background.

Low bids announced on building of I-255

Bids totaling $30.4 million on construction projects dealing with the building of the new Interstate 255 were received by the Illinois Department of Transportation on the April 27 bid letting. IDOT announced last week.

The apparent low bidders on the projects are:

S.J. Groves and Sons Co., Springfield, for 1.06 miles of grading for pavement on I-255 between I-270 and the Chicago & North Western and Illinois Central Gulf railroad tracks, west of Glen Carbon. The company sent in a bid of $9,045,000, for the work.

Helmkamp Construction Co., Wood River, for construction of two bridges to carry I-255 over Business Route 40 and 51 of a mile of concrete base course and concrete curbing, all at the west end of Collinsville. The bid for this work is $3,131,312.

Redi-Cut Stone, Inc., Wood River, for construction of a triple-box culvert over Schneider Ditch, a half-mile north of the interchange with Interstates 55-70 at the west edge of Collinsville. This bid was $490,745.

Haydon Construction Co., Cahokia, for construction of two bridges to carry I-255 over Canteen Creek near the southwest limits of Collinsville. The bid for this work is $1,633,588.

R. Dron Electrical Co., Inc., Granite City, to furnish and install highway lighting on I-255 from Route 15 in Alorton southwest to the Jefferson Barracks Bridge southwest of Dupo. The bid received is for $1,057,686.

Cuyahoga Wrecking Corporation, Chicago, for the complete removal of the superstructure and portions of the substructure of an existing two-lane bridge over the Mississippi River at Jefferson Barracks. This work has been bid at $4,483,000.

Delta Star Electric, Inc., South Bend, Ind., to furnish and erect traffic signals and delineators on I-255 from Route 15 in Alorton southwest to the Mississippi River Bridge. This work was bid at $1,265,392.

Brighton Painting Co., Wood River, for painting of structural steel on dual bridges carrying Interstate 255 over Old Prairie DuPont Creek, south of Cahokia. This bid is $172,000.

Illinois Excavators, Inc., Red Bud, for construction of .76 mile of surface course on Access Road No. 2 along Interstate 270 between Illinois 111 and Interstate 255, west of Glen Carbon. A bid was given of $189,286.

Illinois Excavators, Inc., Red Bud, for .69 mile of base course and surface treatment on Access Road No. 2 along Interstate 270 between I-255 and Sand Road, west of Glen Carbon. A bid of $177,586 was received.

Kesley & Sons, Inc., East St. Louis, for construction of a grade separation structure carrying Black Lane over I-255 and .55 mile of bituminous treated aggregate on Black Lane at the west end of Collinsville. This work was bid at $1,628,000.

Kosarek Construction Co., New Athens, for construction of two bridges carrying I-255 over Cahokia Canal between Horseshoe Lake Road and Stallings Road, southwest of Glen Carbon. A bid was received for $3,641,343.

Keller Construction Inc., Edwardsville, for construction of a highway grade separation structure of continuous composite welded steel plate girder and slab approach spans with vaulted abutments, carrying the southbound lanes of I-270 between Illinois 111 and west of Glen Carbon. This was bid at $1,143,471.

Bids will be received this Friday for the following projects:

To furnish and erect structural steel to two bridges carrying I-270 over Black Lane and the B&O Railroad tracks on column piers and pile bent abutments near the northeast limits of Caseyville.

Application to herbicide weed control spray mixture along various routes in St. Clair and Madison Counties.

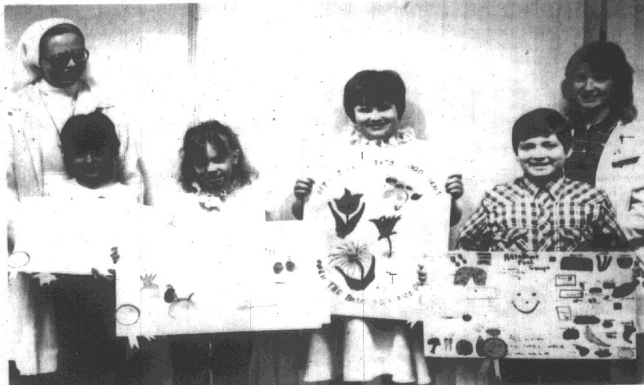

To repair and band cracked pier columns in the Poplar Street Complex in East St. Louis.

2.53 miles of resurfacing, bituminous shoulders and pipe underdrains on I-55-70, and concrete pavement connecting roadways and ramps, two parallel, two single and two reconstructed grade separation structures, all on I-255 and I-55-70 from one-half miles west of Black Lane, east to Illinois 157, near the northwest limits of Collinsville.

4.55 miles of resurfacing on Illinois 111 from U.S. 40 to C.H. 35 in and north of Fairmount City.

Two bridges carrying I-255 over Hardin Ditch, near the northwest limits of Caseyville.

A highway grade separation structure with vaulted abutments, also includes bridge approach spans and paved approaches, all one mile west of Caseyville.

NUTRITION ARTISTS. Area youngsters designed posters for St. Elizabeth Medical Center's Nutrition Week this spring. Left to right: Third-graders Nicki Graves of Parkview School and Amy Springs of Marshall finished first and second in the grades 1-3 competition while fifth-graders Tara Walker of Mitchell School and Keith Hall of Marshall took first and second honors in grades 4-6. ## Some suicides can be avoided

The American Association of Suicideology designated last week as Suicide Prevention Week, to help alert the public to the problem of suicide and to generate cooperation in suicide prevention.

"Suicide is a preventable tragedy and should be treated like other hazards," says Dr. Joe Thigpen, president of the association.

"We know the dangers of cancer, heart disease, accidents and other causes of death and take steps to prevent them, but very few people are capable of recognizing the signals that may reveal when a friend or neighbor is considering suicide, so they're unable to help prevent it," he said.

He explained that the typical signs that often precede a suicide attempt include depression, sudden or unexplained changes in behavior and efforts to get one's affairs in order, including reviewing wills and giving away personal possessions.

Dr. Thigpen warned against the common belief that someone who talks about suicide really won't do it.

Actually, many people who talk about suicide really make the attempt. Such statements are ominous indications and should be taken seriously. Never make mistake of thinking that someone you know isn't 'the type' to take his life. Anybody can be a suicide victim. They're young, old, male, female, black and white, rich or poor," he says.

Many communities around the country have established and are funding suicide prevention centers. Those that don't have a separate agency generally incorporate the suicide prevention function into a crisis intervention center, a mental health clinic, or a church support group.

In Granite City, suicide prevention activities are coordinated by Mental Health Services of Southern Madison County or Crisis Services of Madison County. Both can be reached by calling 877-4420.

MICHELLE KELLY-COREY of Granite City has been appointed vice president of the Better Business Bureau Serving Eastern Missouri and Southern Illinois. She will oversee the operations, production and trade practice departments. She is a 1973 graduate of Madison High School. Also announced during the 888's reorganization was the appointment of Leon Streif of Granite City, president of Vandolia Bus Lines, as a new member of the BBB Board of Directors.

WANTED MAN TURNS SELF INTO POLICE

Robert E. Johnson, 22, of 53 Garesche Homes, Madison, wanted by Venice police for burglary and escape, turned himself in last week. Johnson had been charged with burglary after he allegedly was found in the Venice Liquor Store, hiding in the bathroom. The store had been ransacked. Police officials said Johnson ran out of the station when he was being taken to the cell. Johnson was transferred to the Madison County Jail Tuesday morning on a mittimus was issued.

Breakthrough on trash-to-energy involving steam

After years of planning and development, this metropolitan area has reached a milestone — Missouri Public Service Commission approval of transfer of steam heating from the Union Electric Co. to the Bi-State Development Agency and Thermal Resources of St. Louis, Inc.

The steam system is the primary energy market for trash-to-energy projects. The new approach will help control steam prices for the more than 230 current users and solve a long standing waste disposal problem, officials said this week.

In August 1983, Bi-State, Thermal Resources and Union Electric approved contracts calling for purchase from UE of more than 22 miles of piping and related equipment under downtown St. Louis streets, known as the Steam Loop. By Bi-State and purchase of UE's Ashley steam plant by Thermal.

Execution of the contracts depended on a favorable ruling by the PSC. Many of the users, such as Civic Center Redevelopment, the Federal Reserve Bank and Downtown St. Louis, Inc., had gone on record stating their support for the transfer.

St. Louis' interest in the project is multi-faceted. The city has long been seeking a solution to its solid waste disposal because of its outdated incinerators. It needs economic and environmentally sound ways to dispose of its waste. Coupled with that need is an EPA mandate to make costly improvements or discontinue use of incinerators because the city is no longer meeting clean air standards.

It is considered an important economic development tool to be able to offer processed steam to businesses planning to locate or build downtown. Recent uncertainty over the steam system's future has been a deterrent to this development. Steam sales averaged 2.5 billion pounds per year in the 1970s, but have dropped to 0.9 billion pounds a year.

In Youngstown, Ohio, where Thermal operates a similar project, it has more than tripled steam sales and controlled the escalation of steam prices. Thermal also has taken over the Baltimore steam system which, like St. Louis, is to be part of a trash-to-energy program, with start-up expected there in the fall.

New district heating systems are also being built in such cities as Trenton, Minneapolis and St. Paul and in cities throughout Europe.

Thermal Resources Project Engineer Tab Schmidt, says, "Central heating systems are inherently the best and least expensive way to heat, and in many cases air-condition, buildings."

"They are not a thing of the past but rather are vanguard projects of the future as energy costs soar."

Independent engineers have classified the St. Louis system as the best constructed and maintained system in the nation, Schmidt said.

The city itself is the system's largest steam user. Without the trash-to-energy project, it would be forced to spend $5 million to install a new boiler plant to serve city buildings or face continuously rising fuel prices.

Contracts offered to steam customers call for future steam prices to be held to half the inflation rate for the next 20 years.

Thermal Resources, which along with Bi-State is purchasing the steam system from Union Electric for $3 million, plans to invest $38 million to modernize it and convert it partially back to coal burning. This modernization program will take about two years.

The conversion to coal is called the key to immediately control steam prices, Schmidt says. New pollution control equipment to be installed by Thermal will make use of low-sulphur fuel and reduce emissions even below current levels at the Ashley Plant. At present, heavy oil is utilized at Ashley.

With the PSC approval, Thermal, Bi-State and the City of St. Louis will implement a second phase to construct a $60 million trash burning plant near Ashley. Thermal will build the plant as a private venture, and the new facility will replace the city's two 30-year old incinerators.

After the U.S. Aerial Construction Co. has completed the plant, energy will be fed to the steam system and the excess steam will be turned into electricity and sold to Union Electric.

FIGHTING CHARGES FILED AGAINST MEN

Leslie H. Holik, 43, of Tague, Korea, and 1028 Cleveland Blvd., and William L. Bachman, 40, of Novinger, Mo., were arrested outside the Tip Top Tavern, 18th and State streets, where police were told a fight was in progress last week.

The pair was charged with fighting after it was learned that less than one hour earlier, the two men, allegedly were fighting at the El Gato Tavern, 18th Street and Delmar Avenue, and had been separated and sent on their way without being charged.

Dialogue on drugs

A column by the Chemical People Task Force

Although drugs are a valuable tool in the treatment of diseases, the word drug has come to have a bad connotation attached to it. This has come about due to the abuse of drugs by people in society.

The reasons for drug abuse are as many as the number of abusers. But some of the most commonly used reasons are: to get high, to experiment, giving in to peer pressure, to escape family problems or boredom. These excuses for drug abuse commonly occur in a person with low self esteem, or one who feels alienation from their community or society. These persons may also suffer from a loss in direction, frustration or depression.

Prevention of this type of addiction is much more than simply telling the abuser about the effects of drugs. Prevention is helping people to realize that they are important and are loved.

This is where the Granite City Chemical People Task Force can help. We are a community of caring, sharing and loving people that wish to help anyone that needs support. We welcome all persons regardless of age, sex, creed or national origin to join us in this effort.

Anyone having questions or comments concerning drugs or the Chemical People Task Force, should send letters to: Dialogue on Drugs, P.O. Box 276, Granite City, Ill., 62040. Public meetings are at 7 p.m. every Thursday, in Room 140, Maryville School.

Taracorp applies for IEPA permit

Taracorp Industries, 18th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, is applying for a development permit from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) to develop a site for waste storage.

Stan Sobel, executive vice-president for Taracorp, said the waste that the company plans to store on the site is flux, a by-product of the solder operation. Sobel said the company has applied for similar permits in the past.

"Our business is undergoing its normal course, it's just that the laws governing necessary permits have changed," he said. "Now one needs a permit if he's going to keep anything on the site for more than 90 days," he told the Press-Record yesterday.

Lawrence W. Eastep, a manager in the permit section at the IEPA, said the applications have been received there from Taracorp. He said the application will undergo a technical review and a decision on it will be made within 90 days.

INDECENCY NEAR STORE

TV personalities to participate in St. Elizabeth 'Heart and Sole Run'

The Heart And Sole Run on Saturday, May 19, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center is attracting some real stars.

Art Holliday, Channel 5 sportscaster, will present the "straight" awards to the first, second and the third place winners in each age division.

Area sportscaster and sports director of Channel 2, Zip Rzeppa, will be on hand to add his own brand of off-beat humor to the event. He is going to present his new, famous (or is that infamous?) "Zippo Awards" to other "winners."

The Heart And Sole Run will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The cost is $5 per entrant and the first $50 to sign up will receive their very own scrub shirts. Anyone may participate in the five-mile run or the one-mile fun run.

"Sign up today and run for your life," suggests Sister Mary Thomas, president of SEMC. Applications are available from the Public Relations Department.

For more information, interested persons may contact race director Ralph Hausmann at 798-3018.

Public meeting on area airport plans

The second public information meeting on the general aviation system plan for the St. Louis region will take place May 24 at 7 p.m. in the Executive Beech Hangar at the Spirit of St. Louis Airport.

Development of this plan is a cooperative effort among the state of Illinois and Missouri, two regions of the Federal Aviation Administration and the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

Three working papers on the plan have just been completed. These papers are an inventory of existing facilities, a forecast of general aviation demand to the year 2000, and a capacity analysis for existing public-use airports (public and privately owned).

Next part of the study will focus on the need for added facilities at existing airports and the general location and type of new airports that may be needed in the future.

Input from the public and the aviation community is being sought during the final stages of regional general aviation planning. Illinoisans wishing more information may contact the Gateway Council at 274-2750.

Coronary Club meets

The next meeting of the Coronary Club, sponsored by St. Elizabeth Medical Center, will be held from 5 to 8 p.m., on Wednesday, May 16, at Wilson Park, Shelter 5, near the corner of 30th and State streets.

A potluck picnic, members and their guests are asked to bring one casserole dish which is low in sodium and cholesterol.

A potluck picnic, members and their guests are asked to bring one casserole dish which is low in sodium and cholesterol. Open to anyone interested in learning more about heart disease, the Coronary Club serves as a resource to heart patients, their relatives and interested professionals. The club also provides education and supportive socialization for persons diagnosed with coronary artery disease.

As a member of the Coronary Club, individuals are entitled to free membership, parking privileges and transportation to meetings. For more information or to arrange for transportation, contact Val Buder at 798-3456 or Vicki Young at 798-3658.

Bills would 'legalize' MESD administration

Legislation which, in effect legalizes the Metro-East Sanitary District administrative organization in its present form, has been approved unanimously by the Illinois House of Representatives.

One bill, HB 1123, removes the requirement that the executive director be a licensed engineer. There has not been an executive director for years and the district has been operated by Walter "Shang" Greathouse, president of the board of trustees.

The bill would enable Greathouse to be named the executive director. Sponsored by State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City), the bill was approved on a 105-0 vote. It also enables the sanitary district to sell unwanted property.

A second bill, HB 2507, also sponsored by Rep. Wolf, will enable the district to join with other sewage treatment districts to use a regional treatment facility approved by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The legislation is needed for MESD to join in a regional agreement with Granite City and the Madison County sewer district to use the Granite City Sewage Treatment Plant.

Gebhardt in intensive chemistry institute

Harold F. Gebhardt, chemistry instructor at Granite City High School, has been chosen to participate in the 1984 Dreyfus Institute on High School Chemistry.

Gebhardt was chosen from a pool of approximately 300 high school chemistry teachers who applied for this nationally-recognized leadership institute. The award covers participation in the four-week institute, to be conducted this summer on the campus of Princeton University in Princeton, N.J.

This is the third year the Camille and Henry Dreyfus Foundation has provided financial support for the institute, which is administered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

The focus of this summer's institute will be "Modern Inorganic Chemistry and Its Applications."

"In addition to 50 enthusiastic, renewed and freshly-informed high school chemistry teachers, the institute will develop new and relevant curricular materials for immediate use in the classroom, especially demonstrations, laboratory experiments and computer software," a spokesman said.

Following the summer institute, mini-institutes and other outreach programs will be conducted, at which the Dreyfus master teachers will serve as catalysts for renewal and improvement of teaching in their geographic areas.

Driver injured on Nameoki Road

Scott T. Matyas, 24, of 4388 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, was injured in an accident last week in the 3100 block of Nameoki Road and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

A passenger in his car, Cheryl Murrell, 5012 Lake Drive, also was hurt and was taken to the hospital by ambulance for treatment.

According to reports, Matyas was traveling north when his auto collided with a northbound pickup truck, which was attempting to make a right turn into Charlie's Restaurant parking area.

The impact caused the pickup, operated by David L. Brewer Jr., 21, of 3229 Erin Drive, to move forward and strike and damage a light standard, reports said.

Matyas was charged with failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Steal $9,000 in tires from GC firm

A burglary at Truckers Supply, 1801 Benton St. reported last week, netted the thieves 30 truck tires valued at $9,000.

Harold Cody, manager, said the thieves forced their way into the second floor of the warehouse from a fire escape, went up to the third floor and removed the tires.

The property then was taken down to the second level and out onto the fire escape. Each tire was worth $300, Cody said. Police are continuing to investigate.

GRANITE CITY TRUST

O. In the next month, we'll be moving to another city. I'd like to have my bank accounts open and waiting and have already opened accounts with minimum balances. Should we obtain a cashier's check from our current bank and take that with us when we move in order to have our funds immediately available?

A. Even with a cashier's check, there is sometimes a problem of delay, depending on the policies of the bank in the city to which you are moving. This delay may result in as much as 10 days before the check clears, and your money becomes available at your new bank. The best way to handle such transactions, particularly in the case of large account balances, is to make what you'll require immediately for your move in the form of traveller's checks, keep your current account open until all outstanding checks have cleared, then request that your present bank transfer the balance of the account, by wire, to your new bank. If you are sure all checks have cleared, a wire transfer can be done immediately.

Review programs for Venice Vocational Advisory Council

The Venice Vocational Advisory Council concluded the 1983-84 school year with a busy session at the Granite City Center of Belleville Area College.

Paul Sevastian, Illinois Bell supervisor for Educational Relations, reviewed the "Adopt-a-School Program" which was started this year in the Venice school.

Plans are progressing for computerizing attendance records and possible mini courses for students next year, it was noted. Several field trips were held this year in connection with the program.

Presently, Sevastian is assisting in testing Venice High School students for a program called "Academic Olympics," with the winners to receive gold, silver and bronze medals. Other prizes will be offered to the top finishers in each class, it was noted.

Mary S. Harper, Venice vocational coordinator, presided and Janice Bradley, a Venice High School junior, read a report from the previous meeting.

Venice High School Principal John Rush said the Illinois Bell programs proved very successful this year and that students from the school have attended career fairs at both Madison High School and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The principal also announced the number of placements of Venice Cooperative Education students has increased to nine in the current school year.

Mrs. Harper introduced Mrs.

Teresa Johnson, an English instructor and a part-time counselor at the Granite City Center, who explained some of the programs and services now available at the BAC affiliated facility.

A tour of the center concluded the council meeting.

In addition to those named also present were Mike Butts, industrial arts teacher, Peressia Dandridge, computer programming instructor, William Badger, Illinois Power, Carmel L. Chavis, Mrs. Irene Miller, Mrs. Carolyn Wilson, Mrs. Janet Wiley, and Mrs. Addie Meredith.

Students attending were Wanda Brown, Jackie Chatman, Kim Clark, Letitia Miller, Janice Bradley and Avis Wiley.

Business development center active

With wide latitude on the definition of "small," the Small Business Development Center is actively providing a wide range of research and other services to this region, Granite City Rotarians were told Tuesday by Director Arnold Franke.

Based at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the center helps firms gather marketing, tax and business law information.

It provides data on business finance, capital formation and the intricacies of starting a business. And it advises and provides information, improvement, assists minority firms and analyzes economic and business trends.

"Companies even as large as 1,000 employees contact the SBDC to obtain counseling, training and technical aid," SUE Professor Franke said. "Most of our services are free."

"We have catalogs of currently available resources and we conduct workshops, seminars and training conferences."

"We also maintain a file of federal, state and area licensing regulations, taxaid and other information affecting businesses."

A 30-member advisory council includes representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Growth Triangle Development Corp., Madison-Bond Counties Private Industry Council, River Bend Economic Development Corp., Regional Commerce and Growth Association, Score (Service Corps of Retired Executives), Southwestern Illinois Areawide Business Development Finance Corp., Southwestern Developmental Center, Southwestern Leadership Council, Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, Target 2000 and the SIUE Area Development Office.

Prof. Franke and others at the university work with the U.S. Small Business Administration, the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, companies, local governments and four community colleges—Belleville, Lewis and Clark, Kaskaskia College and State Community College—in operating the development center.

Through its affiliation with Belleville Area College, BAC's Granite City Center (formerly North High School) works closely with the business development program, the club was told.

Robert Lombardi was program chairman. Dean Maberry, program chairman for May 15, said his speaker will be Bill Seebold Jr., world speedboat racing champion.

Show studies aftermath of large plant closings

In May 1982, the quiet spring air of Youngstown, Ohio, was shattered as U.S. Steel blew up its historic Ohio Works. The personal dream of economic security which seemed within reach in the 1950's and 60's had vanished in the plant closings and layoffs which have swept America's aging industrial centers. In communities where people once confidently relied on American business to provide them the highest standard of living on earth, food giveaways had become almost as common as backyard barbecues and were.

What happened? Why aren't our large industrial corporations providing Americans with the economic opportunities we've so long taken for granted? What are the implications for our cherished economic faith? And what should we do about it?

These are among the critical questions facing the nation which are addressed by "The Business of America" to be broadcast Thursday, May 17, at 9 p.m. on Channel 9.

While the setting is steel, the program's real subject is the myths and assumptions which have long dominated our economic thinking and sustained the "American Dream." John Kenneth Galbraith has called the film "An impressive, compelling work, one that 'deserves a wide, attentive—and responsive—audience.'"

"The Business of America" examines how out of work employees of major companies are casting aside their former complacency to explore new, more active and more active economic roles. They are looking at alternative approaches to economic renewal, such as community-worker ownership, targeted investment of pension funds, and have even become involved in an unprecedented initiative—an attempt to draft an alternative industrial plan for their region. They see their efforts as consistent with their own basic American values of self-reliance and democracy.

Zoning hearings on mobile homes on Chouteau Island

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct four on-site public zoning hearings at two Chouteau Township locations Thursday, May 17.

The first hearing will be at 9 a.m. on Chouteau Island at "Old Water Works Road, where Danny Bowman and Dennis and June Cooper are requesting a variance to continue use of a mobile home in a flood hazard area.

The second hearing will be at the same location at 9:30 a.m. where Bowman and the Coopers are requesting a special use permit to use the mobile home for up to five years.

The third hearing will be at 9:15 a.m. Thursday on the island where Roger A. Kieffer is requesting a special use permit to continue the placement of a double-wide mobile home for as long as possible. The property can be reached by crossing the Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge and turning right at the first road. It is the first tract of land on the right after going under Interstate 270.

The fourth hearing will be at the same location at 9:30 a.m. where Kieffer is requesting a variance to continue use of the mobile home in the flood hazard area.

CHARGED WITH PROWLING

Bill Sensabaugh Jr., 22, of 2816 Marshall Ave. pleaded innocent to prowling at a hearing Thursday afternoon before Associate Judge Nicholas Byron and was freed on a $1,000 recognizance bond. Arrested May 13, 1984, at 1:30 a.m. that day in the 1700 block of Edison Avenue, Sensabaugh allegedly was seen near several parked vans. Police said he threw down a brick when they approached.

Ways to collect after a judgment

There are two aspects to any civil case where the plaintiff is seeking money damages. First, the plaintiff must win the case by establishing liability on the part of the defendant and thereby obtain a judgment against the defendant. Secondly, the plaintiff will have to collect on this judgment if the defendant does not voluntarily pay the damages assessed against him. If the defendant is a transient who never stays in one place for any period of time or if the defendant has no assets of any kind, collecting on the judgment may prove to be a difficult task.

There are several ways of collecting on a judgment. One of the most common methods involves a garnishment against the defendant's wages. If the defendant is employed, Illinois law, in most instances, requires the employer to withhold 15 percent of the employee's wages. This garnishment is instituted by the creditor with the sheriff serving the employer with a Wage Deduction Summons and Affidavit for Wage Deduction Order. Normally, the original garnishment runs for 60 days, at which time the creditor must institute another proceeding.

Another method of collecting on a judgment involves the creditor filing a memorandum of judgment in the county where the debtor owns real estate. This gives the creditor a lien upon the debtor's real estate. The real estate then cannot be sold until the judgment is satisfied. Furthermore, the creditor can foreclose on the real estate once a

Law and you

By Rick Reed
Attorney at Law

lien is obtained. It is generally recommended that one record a memorandum of judgment even if the debtor does not own real estate at the time of recording since the debtor may acquire real estate at some future time and then the lien will attach.

A third method used by creditors for collecting monies owed is the non-wage garnishment. This provides a method for reaching property of the debtor other than wages, such as bank accounts, which are being held by third parties for the benefit of the debtor.

Finally, if the creditor is unaware as to what assets are held by the debtor, the creditor can file a Citation to Discover Assets. This requires the defendant to appear in court and answer under oath all questions pertaining to his assets. The court, pursuant to a Citation to Discover Assets, can order a debtor to make arrangements to pay off the judgment on a monthly basis.

Chouteau budgets rise $5,049

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Chouteau Town Board of Trustees approved the budget appropriations for the 1984-85 year in the amount of $219,102, up $5,049 from last year's budgets of $214,113.

An additional $1,100 requested by the South Roxana Police Department was entered in the Revenue Sharing Fund budget by the trustees and is included in the grand total for the year.

The money is to be used for three radios for the police department.

Trustee Dudley Lubbert of Hartford held his ground on the expense in the tax assessor's part of the budget for reasons he stated at the March meeting. He said the assessorial entry that Lubbert objected to was for training expenses for Marion Sparks, tax assessor, that is higher by $1,050 over last year's budgeted amount.

Trustee Thomas Johnson of South Roxana, made the motion to accept the budget and Walter "Dick" Bradley, 62, of 121 Carter St., Eagle

Sparks, township supervisor, seconded the motion.

The general town fund administration division budget for the 1984-85 year is $88,500; assessment division, $21,554 (not including the $9,000 salary for the tax assessor) and contingencies for $1,000, amounting to $111,054.

General assistance fund appropriations are: administrative division, $16,275, home relief division, $38,400, and contingencies, $850, totaling $55,525.

Adding the federal revenue sharing fund of $51,483 and the additional $1,100 request, the combined budgets show a grand total of $219,102.

5 lose driver's licenses in alcohol-related cases

The driver's licenses of five Quad-City area residents have been suspended or revoked after alcohol-related driving assets, according to Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgar.

Licenses suspended for implied consent (refusal to take a breath alcohol test) were those of Herman C. Hawkins, 33, of 2855 Madison

Park Acres, Carolyn J. Davis, 37, of 6 Queensbury Court, and Starr J. Williams, 37, of 2039 Fourteenth St. Licenses revoked after convictions of driving under the influence of alcohol were those of Charles W. Voloski, 34, of 1008 Seventh St., Madison, and Thomas C. Hawkins, 33, of 2855 Madison

The Granite City Planning Commission will review five zoning requests at its regular meeting at 1 p.m. on Thursday, May 17. The meeting will be in the council chambers, Granite City City Hall, 200 Edison Ave.

Requests being reviewed will include: E.G. Steele Development Inc., which is requesting a rezoning to R-5 and annexation of two and one-third acres on Carlgill Road. The Knights of Columbus is asking that land at 4225 Old Alton Road be rezoned from an R-2 single family residence to a C-3 community ap-proposed District. Mr. and Mrs. Otilio Valencia Jr., who are requesting that their land at 1701 Bremen Ave., be annexed in the city of Granite City. Jimmie and Diana Milton are asking that the Parkside Food Shop, 3202 Maryville Road, be rezoned from a C-2 neighborhood commercial to a C-3 general commercial zone. David Roth is requesting that property located at the corner of Madison Avenue and 29th Street, be rezoned from an R-3 single family residence to a C-4 Central Business Commercial.

and moving toward "preventative programs, rehabilitation, outpatient treatment and innovative systems that provide high-quality, cost-effective services." She noted, "We can see clear evidence of this shift here at St. Elizabeth's. For example, five years ago, outpatient surgery amounted to only five percent of our annual business. Today it accounts for 35 percent."

"Because of these changes, there are job opportunities in the health care field for those who have the skills to deliver the kinds of services that are now in demand. On the other hand, those whose skills are concentrated in the traditional aspect of in-patient care will be competing for fewer and fewer jobs."

"THE LAYOFF" that is taking place at St. Elizabeth's is an adjustment of our workforce to match our workload. We are laying off in areas where the demand for services is reduced and areas where the demand is not expected to increase," she said.

Sister Mary Thomas also noted that, as the situation warrants, some of those laid off will be called back to work, but not all. She warned, "They will not necessarily be coming back to work in the same capacity as before. Most will probably be back in the same department, but the jobs they will be offered will depend on their qualifications, years of seniority and the department's workforce needs."

In accord with a press release issued by the medical center, "When an associate (employee) is called back, he or she will have the option of accepting or rejecting the job offer. No one will be fired for turning down a job offer. Turning down a job offer will just extend the period of time that the employee will have to wait to go back to work."

SISTER Mary Thomas commented, "This situation presents both a hardship and an opportunity. The hardship is obvious. The opportunity may be less so, but it is there, nevertheless. We have the opportunity to create a health care system that is better than the one that existed before. It is a cost-effective and more responsive to people's needs."

Tax hike

let members of the General Assembly know they feel about Senate Bill 1478. That proposed law would offset the windfall of a large settlement by requiring taxing bodies to either lower next year's tax levies or give the extra money to the county for maintenance of the jail.

SOME AT the meeting saw flaws in the bill. Ricki questioned the legality of requiring the money to go to support county jails. Edwardsville Township Supervisor Bob Stille said if he has to lower his tax levy, 1,200 signatures would have to be collected on petitions the next year to permit the levy to be restored.

"There's no way in hell you're going to go up to a door and say, 'Sign my paper, I'm going to raise your taxes,'" Stille said.

He said he was unable to find out how much money would be owed to townships, but he estimated it would be very little.

THE POSSIBILITY of having the taxing bodies negotiate with the county was mentioned. However, those in the audience were not polled as to whether they would be willing to negotiate.

Granite City School District Superintendent Bobby Joe Davis said it is not really known how much would be owed by Madison County, nor exactly how much of a tax increase would be required. He told others they should not get emotional and "cave in" until they know the facts.

Approximately 55 people attended the meeting.

Hall said the meeting served a purpose by allowing a lot of opinions to be aired and by enabling those running the meeting to collect a list of names and telephone numbers. The information could be used to come up with a negotiating committee in a hurry if one becomes necessary, Hall said.

Board stresses positive side of political action

The belief that "politics" is not a bad word was stressed by several Granite City Board of Education members at their early-May meeting.

They think that people with the courage to participate in political activities help make democracy function and deserve citizens' encouragement and respect. In accord with this line of thought, Assessor Von Dee Cruse's proposal for the high school band to play at his "happening" drew majority, although not unanimous, support.

The event is set for 7 p.m. Friday, May 25, at the Washington Theater.

CRUSE HAS NOT SAID what will happen there, but many people think he will announce that he plans to run for mayor next spring.

He pledged to delay any political talking until after the young musicians have performed and departed. However, some of the board members who supported the plan said they think witnessing a political meeting would be educational for teenage students.

No liquor is to be served at the "happening," Cruse will assume the cost of taking the band to the theater from the school and then back to the school.

Supt. B.J. Davis checked with Band Director Joseph Owens and learned it was uncertain whether the band would be available. Permission was given by the board, subject to the availability.

Favoring participation were President Dave Porey, Treasurer Kelly Hogan and Members Dewey Melton and Ruth LaRue. Opposed were Alan Crider and Monroe Walters. Secretary Thomas Morfey was out of town.

AS ASSESSOR, Cruse helps determine the real estate tax base that serves as the source of property taxes for schools and other local-level taxing bodies.

He has been working with educators and other several times this year on efforts to avoid major decreases in the tax base.

Asked by board members about past board decisions affecting use of the band, Supt. Davis recalled that the band played during Granite City High School appearances by two national candidates—when Sen. Edmund Muskie was campaigning as a vice-presidential nominee and when President Jimmy Carter was seeking re-election.

Melton and Hogan were among those commenting that no stigma should be attached to a public gathering merely because it involves political activity.

WORTHEN QUESTIONED whether it would be justified to require band students to take part in a campaign rally for candidates that some of their parents might not favor.

A general discussion brought out the viewpoint that participation could be made voluntary. But a subsequent point was that a musical group would be at a disadvantage if only part of its members were present. Hogan cited potential educational benefits from the experience.

It was noted that a half-hour concert is envisioned. The content of the program was not indicated.

Worthen said approval might lead to ten more requests for the band. He asked, "Where do you draw the line?"

It was decided to ask the board's Policy Committee to develop a policy proposal on the subject of band utilization. Whatever policy is adopted will not affect the May 25 program.

Funeral in Roodhouse for Mrs. Ina May, 87

Services were held Saturday afternoon, May 12, at a Roodhouse funeral home for Mrs. Ina May, 87, Roodhouse, who died Wednesday, May 9, 1984, at the White Hall Hospital.

Burial was at Fernwood Cemetery. She was preceded in death by her husband, Alvin L. May, in 1962.

She leaves three daughters, Mrs. Hazel Cockrell of Granite City, Sarah Sheppard of Roodhouse and Evelyn Settles of Carrollton; three sons, Roy May of Venice, Floyd of Boca Raton, Fla., and Carl of Roodhouse; a sister, Goldie Wells of Alton; a brother, Ralph Carlton of Chicago; 19 grandchildren and many great and great-great grandchildren.

County Board to act on zoning requests

Several Quad-City area recommendations of the Madison County Board of Appeals, including one for a special use permit and a variance for an auto repair garage, will be voted upon by the Madison County Board at its meeting at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

The zoning board is recommending that the variance and permit be given Darrell and John Galt to construct a pole type building for expanding their hobby of an auto restoration and auto repair garage at 2137 Collinsville Ave., Cloverleaf Subdivision of Nameoki Township. The zoning board also is recommending that the variance be given two families for continuing the placement of mobile homes. Ward Wood wants to continue the placement of a mobile home on Chouteau Island next to Emerald Lake, in a flood hazard area. The board recommends he be granted the permit for his sole occupancy.

Harold Harper and Jerry and Kathy Tatum are seeking a special use permit to continue the placement of a single-wide mobile home at 4905 Carl St., in Chouteau Township. The zoning board recommends that the permit be granted for up to two years for the sole occupancy of the Tatum family.

Also endorsed is a request of Eric and Sue Ann Archer for a special use permit and a variance to construct a 22-foot detached garage, in excess of the 15 foot maximum allowed, at 5129 Lakeview Drive, in Chouteau Township.

Springfest starts Wednesday at SIUE

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's annual celebration of spring, Springfest, will be held May 16 to 18 at the university.

A staff, and for the public, including booths, contests and bands will be available at the event, which begins Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. in the hailprain drive area of the Morris Quadrangle.

Hamburger, porksteaks, barbecued chicken, nachos and cheddar pizza, soda and international foods will be available at booths. Other booths will offer bio-therapies, a dart toss, blackjack, a coin toss and dunking.

The festival will begin with the release of balloons. Afterwards, the country-rock band Boulderdash will play. Contests on Wednesday include pizza eating, a double-dutch jump rope competition, an egg toss and pie eating. A luncheon at the SIUE Faculty Club is also scheduled.

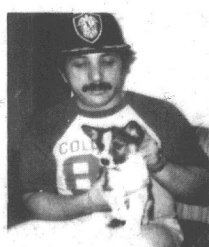

At 8 p.m., the Starboard Student Talent Show will begin in Meridian Ballroom in the University Center. Tickets are $2 for students, faculty and staff, and $5 for the public.

The new wave band Newspeak will play from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Thursday. The events of the day include a hamburger eating contest, a treasure hunt and a balloon toss. Thursday also is track and field day. A frisbee throw, softball throw, 50-yard dash and other track and field events will begin at 1 p.m. Other events include a yo-yo contest and the double-dutch jump rope contest finals.

At 8 p.m., the band USA will perform at the Beer Garden and Dance sponsored by the Faculty Club.

A barbecue lunch will be available Friday during Tower Lake Day. The lunch costs $2 for students and recreation members. Events through the day include canoe races, a tug of war and a sailing regatta. For more information, interested persons may call the Student Program Board at 1-692-2617.

Lightning bolts hit area Sunday

An early morning thunderstorm unleashed through the Quad-City area Sunday and the accompanying lightning struck several places in Granite City.

Periods of heavy rain and winds gusting to nearly 40 mph passed through the bi-state metropolitan region, according to the National Weather Service. The storm dropped nearly a half-inch of rain during a three-hour period.

A bolt of lightning hit the home of Warren Jennings, 2828 Michigan Ave., about 8:15 a.m. Sunday, boring a hole in the roof and a copper water pipe and kicking out circuit breakers at the dwelling. Firemen went to the scene and estimated $600 damage to the structure.

Lightning was responsible for igniting a utility pole in the 2800 block of Edgewood Avenue, near the rear of Wilson School, at 9:10 a.m. Sunday. The pole struck a control box on top of the pole.

An estimated $1,500 damage was listed to contents and $500 in other damage to the basement. The basement, 4112 Braden Ave., where lightning hit an electrical box and wiring in the basement and damaged clothing in a barrel at 7:30 a.m. Sunday, according to a Granite City Fire Department report.

Births recorded at St. Elizabeth Medical Center include:

Mr. and Mrs. William Mosier, 2124 Delmar Ave., May 8, Terri Crystal, 6 pounds, 3 ounces.
Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bergeron, Grafton, Ill., May 8, Ashley Michelle, 8 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Tepler, 2614 Madison Ave., May 11, Alicia Erin, 7 pounds, 4 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Muehl, 2821 Sunset Drive, May 12, Kelly Marie, 9 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, 2412 Delmar Ave., May 8, Raymond Allen, 7 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Reiser II, 2036 Cleveland Blvd., May 8, Herman Alvin III, 7 pounds, 10 ounces.
Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Reiser, 1740 Chestnut St., May 12, Rocky Lee, 5 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, 1833 Bremen Ave., May 12, Wesley David, 8 pounds, 15 ounces.

Births recorded at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital, Maryville, include:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Ronda) Guffey, Granite City, girl, May 8.

Berry is recaptured

Nearly eight months of freedom ended Thursday for a fugitive Marvin Dale Berry, 55, who was captured after police surrounded the Congress Airport Inn, 3433 N. Lindbergh Blvd., Bridgeport, St. Louis County.

Convicted in 1946 of staging an armed holdup in New York, in the early 1950s of robbing taxi drivers in St. Louis, in 1958 of robbing a Granite City tavern and in 1981 of robbing a Columbia, Ill., bank, Berry has spent much of his life in prison.

HE ESCAPED Sept. 28 from two federal corrections officers after attending his mother's funeral in St. Louis, and had been at the Congress Inn for a week before authorities received a tip that he was there.

Bridgeport police called the rooms of other guests and had them leave. Berry then was contacted and within about five minutes walked out of his room, commenting that to resist at that point would have been "suicide."

Officers found a revolver, bullets, gloves, a ski mask and handcuffs in his motel room. They speculated on a possible link with home-invasion robberies in various states.

A preliminary hearing is to be held May 18. Magistrate David Nove said the bond at $250,000 cash.

BERRY WAS DRIVEN to this area last fall from a federal penitentiary in Terre Haute, Ind., where he was serving a 28-year term for the bank holdup. He was the assailant of a policeman during that robbery.

He apparently obtained a .38-caliber revolver at a family gathering after the funeral. When he said he was ill, the guards stopped the drive on Interstate 70 in St. Louis. Berry drove the wagon from beneath his shirt and forced them to release his shackles.

He then drove off in the government vehicle and had managed to elude officers until last week.

Claude Kilzer, father of GC resident, dies

Claude L. Kilzer, 85, a resident of the Perino Nursing Home in Pekin, Ill., father of a Granite City resident, died at 5:40 p.m. Sunday, May 13, 1984, at the facility.

Born in Greenfield, Tenn., Mr. Kilzer also lived in Washington Park, before moving to Pekin. He was of the Baptist faith.

His wife, Mrs. Golda Kilzer, died in January 1971.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Juanita Tyson of Granite City; seven sons; 33 grandchildren; and 26 great-grandchildren.

Visitation will begin at 3 p.m. today at Kasper Colonial Mortuary, 9900 St. Clair Ave., Fairview Heights, where services will be conducted on Wednesday, May 16. Burial will be in Lake View Memorial Gardens, Belleville.

Harold Croissant rites conducted in Belleville

Services took place Friday afternoon at a Belleville funeral home for Harold H. Croissant, 69, Belleville, who died Tuesday, May 8, at the Memorial Hospital there. Burial was at Mount Hope Cemetery.

The World War II Marine Corps veteran was retired from East St. Louis Teamsters Local 729.

Survivors include his wife, Virginia, one son, two brothers, two grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Paul (Virginia) Richards of Granite City and Mrs. Ralph (Doris) Holshouser of Anna.

Rites conducted for former GC resident

Services were held Saturday afternoon, May 12, at a Roodhouse funeral home for Mrs. Ina May, 87, Roodhouse, who died Wednesday, May 9, 1984, at the White Hall Hospital.

Burial was at Fernwood Cemetery. She was preceded in death by her husband, Alvin L. May, in 1962.

She leaves three daughters, Mrs. Hazel Cockrell of Granite City, Sarah Sheppard of Roodhouse and Evelyn Settles of Carrollton; three sons, Roy May of Venice, Floyd of Boca Raton, Fla., and Carl of Roodhouse; a sister, Goldie Wells of Alton; a brother, Ralph Carlton of Chicago; 19 grandchildren and many great and great-great grandchildren.

MOTORCYCLIST SKIDS ON GRAVEL, INJURIES RESULT

Thomas Matern, 31, of 138 Douglas Place, Mitchell, was seriously injured when his motorcycle skidded on some rocks at the intersection of Maryville Road and Hemlock Avenue at 5:55 p.m. Saturday. His vehicle was the only one involved in the crash.

Matern was making a right turn onto Hemlock Avenue from Maryville Road when his motorcycle skidded on gravel, hit the curb and he flew off the bike, hitting a sign post. Matern was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was transferred to a Belleville Desloge Hospital in St. Louis. The accident was handled by Illinois State Police.

PONTIAC BEACH — It is estimated that an indoor soccer tournament sponsored by a Granite City youth soccer team netted about $1,700 for Tammy Beckham, a 16-year-old St. Louis girl who needs a liver transplant operation. The tournament was held during the weekend at nearby Soccer For Fun on Illinois Route 111.

The MAC Bandits, a team comprised of 12 year olds, sponsored the 17-team indoor soccer tournament this weekend to raise money for Miss Beckham.

Miss Beckham's plight became known throughout the Midwest recently when the Missouri Senate voted to give the child $200,000 for the liver transplant operation, but withdrew its offer when some legislators said the move might violate the state constitution's ban on appropriations to specific people.

MISS BECKHAM suffers from chronic, active sclerosis, a disease that causes the liver to harden and decay. Specialists estimate that Miss Beckham will live five years without the transplant operation.

"We're really happy with the way the whole tournament went," said

Ruth Richardson, one of the tournament organizers. "Everyone was very cooperative and it took a lot of work by everyone to make this the success that it was."

In addition to the 17 teams which participated, its estimated that another 200 spectators were in hand during the two-day tournament. Many of them came to see St. Louis Soccer Steamer Billy Phillips, who signed autographs during the Sunday sessions.

TO SHOW her appreciation for the fund-raising tourney, Miss Beckham also visited the indoor facility Saturday. The 16-year-old girl spent about seven hours at the facility talking with the young athletes and conversing with parents.

When the tourney concluded Sunday evening, there were three champions, one in each age group. Winning the 10 and under category was the Bank of Edwardsville team. They defeated the RKO Bobcats 5-1.

In the 12 and under group, the Elks defeated the host team MAC Bandits 5-4 in overtime. The score at the end of regulation was tied at three.

In the third and final category, the Fairmount Park Rowdies were victorious. The Rowdies defeated the Alton Optimists 6-5.

SIGNING STEAMER. Bill Phillips, goalie for the St. Louis Steamers of the MISL, signed autographs Sunday afternoon at Soccer For Fun during a benefit soccer tournament there. Above, Phillips signs autographs for members of the

Monday SPORTS*A Sports Special*Nesbit to give something back to running*Finishes 167th In Last Month's Boston MarathonBy ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

Sam Nesbit sat comfortably in the living room of his parents' home on Warren Street during an interview, sneaking glimpses of the televised Cardinals-Pirates baseball game.

Clad in nylon running shorts and a T-shirt that he received for running in a 10 kilometer race, he began discussing the granddaddy race of them all — the Boston Marathon.

"It's unbelievable. It's not just a marathon, it's an event. It's the biggest event that I've ever participated in."

Explaining, Nesbit estimated that there were 20,000 spectators at the starting line in addition to the 9,000 marathon participants.

"There were people at least two and three deep all 26 miles. Then, as you approach the finish line — the last half mile — there must've been 100,000 spectators. There's nothing in the world like it."

At 26, Nesbit finished 167th in the annual 26.2-mile run from Hopkinton, Mass., to downtown Boston on April 16th.

To some, finishing 167th may not sound too dramatic, but consider this: Of the those who participated in the Boston Marathon, Nesbit finished in the first one percent. Or said in another way, 99 percent of those who entered finished behind him.

By virtue of his 2:35:50 qualifying time in the St. Louis Marathon last December, Nesbit was seeded 708th in Boston. And despite a nippy, 38-degree temperature and an aggravating, drizzling rain, which slowed the pace of many of the participants, he completed the Boston Marathon more than six minutes faster than his qualifying time, 2:29:06.

"I felt like I was really ready for it," explained Nesbit of his strong finish in the nation's oldest, most prestigious marathon. "Everything was going right. My times were good and I felt like I was in the best shape ever," he said.

In February, two months prior to Boston, he won a 30 kilometer (18.4 miles) race in St. Louis sponsored by the St. Louis Track Club. And in March he ran a half marathon (13.1 miles) in Springfield, just three weeks before the Boston Marathon.

Nesbit ultimately began preparing for the Boston Marathon more than 12 years ago when he ran track at Coolidge Junior High and later track and cross country at Granite City High School South.

"When I went out for track I thought I was a sprinter, but coach (Keith) Parker figured me otherwise. He told me if I was going to letter I would run the mile," Nesbit said. "At the time, I think, he knew me better than I knew myself."

With suggestions from Parker, his junior high coach, and later prodding from Coach Vizzard and cross country and track coaches Dick Harmon and Dan Miller, Nesbit eventually found himself at home running distances.

In his early running days Nesbit said he wasn't very good. "I wasn't a quitter, though. I was happy just to get out there and compete," he said. "I figured I was going to get beat and I did. I felt lucky just having the opportunity to be on the track."

Realizing endurance is a necessity of a good distance runner, he worked on improving his endurance in the winter, between cross country and track seasons.

"I went out for wrestling my junior year primarily for the conditioning, with the idea of improving my endurance," Nesbit said. "One year under (Warrior wrestling Coach Bill Schmitt) Schmitt will last a lifetime. I'll do wonders for your endurance," he said Schmitt's drillings.

After graduating from high school in 1975, he attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville where he ran both cross country and track for the Cougars.

"In cross country, I was the third runner my freshman year, behind Dwayne Terry and Mike Sawyer," Nesbit said. "I was a middle-of-the-pack runner."

It didn't take long, however, for Nesbit to become one of SIUE's best. What he called "a late-bloomer," Nesbit was the Cougars' top runner by his junior year running a 4:18 mile and later that year, in 1979, he was named the Cougars' most valuable runner.

The following year, his senior year at SIUE, was a disappointing one for Nesbit. Attending SIUE for 4½ years, Nesbit didn't think he was eligible his senior — in 1980 — because he had run two races as a freshman in 1975. He didn't learn of his senior eligibility until midway through that season and by then, he said, he was unable to repeat his MVP performance of the year before.

An education major with emphasis in business math, Nesbit took a teaching job in the Mascoutah School District after graduating from SIUE in 1980. The following year, he took a teaching job at St. Boniface, a parochial school in Edwardsville.

While teaching at St. Boniface, Nesbit began what he termed as something very important to him — giving something back to the community in which he grew up.

While teaching at St. Boniface, Nesbit managed to get a job at the Prather Junior High wrestling coach. During his tenure as coach, Prather posted a successful season, winning its own and, what later turned out to be, its final Invitational Wrestling Tournament.

"Basically, I tried to teach them something that I learned a long time ago. If you have endurance, you can win an awful lot of things late. Whether it be in running or wrestling," Nesbit said.

"At the junior high level I taught them conditioning. If they're well-conditioned and can stay off their backs they can win a lot of matches."

During that time, he also became Coach Harmon's assistant cross country coach at Granite City South, again giving something back to running. But, a relative newcomer to the district's payroll, he later lost his job as the district announced numerous teacher cutbacks and school closings.

He has since landed a teaching job at St. Elizabeth School, the elementary Catholic school here in Granite City.

Just about that time, Nesbit suffered a knee injury which restricted his running. Away from running for about six months, Nesbit came to what he called a crossroads in his running career.

"It would have been easy at that time to cut back on my running, but when I had the knee injury I wasn't happy not running. I missed it," Nesbit said.

"With the help of friends, I raced myself back into shape," Nesbit said. With the aid of his friends Nesbit was racking up as many as 120 miles a week last summer, running both in the morning and at night.

And, last winter during the extremely cold winter, Nesbit and his running friends, ran eight miles during a -47 degrees wind chill factor.

"We didn't run then because we wanted to run in the cold. It was more our dedication to our goal. Nothing was going stop us, not even extreme temperatures."

Nesbit's near goal was the Boston Marathon. "It's something that words alone can't explain," he said. "You have to experience it." But his long range goals are to break into money marathon racing, a lucrative profession for those who are the best.

Experiencing the Boston Marathon was something Nesbit did in a big way. With the temperature hovering around 38 degrees and the danger of hypothermia lurking in the back of all the runners' minds, Nesbit suffered severe leg cramps near the 21-mile mark. He battled off the cramps for more than a mile until they became unbearable at 22½ miles.

"I stopped. I had to stretch them (his legs) out," Nesbit said. "I couldn't believe it when I did. The spectators, they were all cheering for me, telling me to go on and not stop there. It was unbelievable."

"From somewhere, I don't know where, I got strength to continue. I guess it must've been adrenalin. They really don't like to see anyone to stop."

Nesbit said the next three miles were uncomfortable, but the last mile — where the masses were — he didn't really feel any pain. The excitement, he said, of finishing was greater than any pain.

"By then my body temperature had been down to 93 or 94 degrees. What kept me going was thinking of that hot shower, knowing I would be able to warm my body and relax under the shower really helped me to finish."

By then, Nesbit was excited. Still sitting on the couch, it was like he was reliving the race all over again just by talking about it.

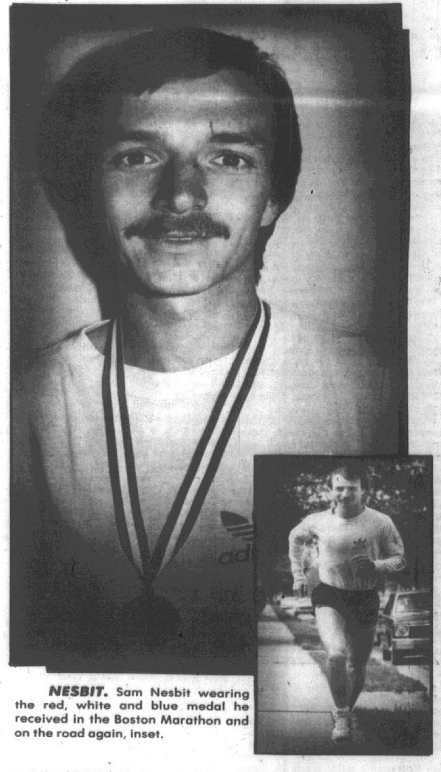

"I've really got a lot to be thankful for," Nesbit said. "My triumphs are as much my mom's for all those rewarmed suppers she prepared for me after I returned from running. And they guys I run with, they really helped me a lot. Training is a lot easier when you've got dedicated people like them to work with," he said.

Nesbit's running mates, three in all, and all from Granite City, also ran in the Boston Marathon. Ken Feigenbutz, 36, placed 98th with a time of 2:45:30 while Eric Gyaki and Harold Dix placed further back.

Gyaki, also 36, finished 2,144th with a time of 2:58:53 and Dix, 46, finished 3,018th with a time of 3:10:15.

"These guys and the people at St. Elizabeth's (Elementary Catholic School) have really been good to me. They've put up with me after the long races and been patient enough to put up with whatever inconveniences my training may have caused. But, I owe most to my parents. They've been most supportive."

Nesbit is the son of Tom and Sue Nesbit of 2807 Warren in Granite City.

GC girls win postponed Rosary tournament

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — It took 10 innings to do it, but the Granite City High School Warrior girls' softball team won their first tournament in the seven-year history of the program Saturday by defeating Rosary High School in the finals of the Rosary Tournament by the score of 15-13.

In the first round of the tournament which began April 14, the Warriors defeated Lutheran North 10-6. However, a downpour forced the remainder of the tournament to be postponed.

When the tournament resumed on Saturday, the Warriors were facing Rosary who had defeated Jennings in their earlier contest.

The Warriors jumped to an early 2-0 lead after their half of the first. With two out, Lisa Lilley delivered a run-scoring single up the middle.

Lilley stole second base and scored on a wild pitch and an error.

Rosary bounced back in their half of the first as they sent 11 batters to the plate and came away with five runs.

Walks and wild pitches caused the majority of the Warriors problems as starting pitcher Michelle Morgan struggled with control problems in the first inning and throughout the game.

The second inning was the big inning for the Warriors as they scored eight runs to make the score 10-6. Morgan, Lilley and Vicki Smith delivered key hits for the Warriors.

The Warriors held the lead until the bottom of the third when Rosary broke the scoring open with six runs on just one hit. Again walks were a major contributor to the Warriors' problems.

Meanwhile, Rosary increased its lead to 13-10 by adding two more runs in the bottom of the fourth.

Leigh Ann Fanning scored the Warriors only run in the fifth as she circled the bases on a single and a three-base error by the Rosary left fielder.

When Granite City returned to the field in the bottom of the fifth, Warrior Coach Jim Davis made a lineup change. Morgan, the starting pitcher for the Warriors, went to second base and Kathy Hutchings, the Warrior's second baseman, came in to pitch. It was only the second time Hutchings ever pitched in a game.

Both changes proved to be advantageous for the Warriors. Hutchings came in to pitch five outstanding innings giving up just one hit.

Morgan made two diving plays at second to help save the game for the Warriors.

"Kathy Hutchings has to be the star of this game," said Coach Davis. "Yesterday was the first time she ever pitched. She doesn't throw hard but we knew she could throw strikes and that's what we needed."

There's no doubt Michelle Morgan is our No. 1 pitcher. She's our ace and she's done a good job, but right now I don't think she can go seven innings. We may have to rely on Hutchings a little bit more now."

The Warriors added runs in both the sixth and the seventh to tie the game and send it into extra innings.

"The girls really hung in there today," said Davis. "They bounced right back and kept scraping to put themselves in a situation to win."

And win is what the Warriors did in the top of the 10th.

JULIE BRIGGS led the inning off with a walk. Morgan then reached on an error that advanced Briggs to third with no outs.

Anne Puhse and Hutchings each followed with bunt sacrifices to score Briggs and Morgan.

"The same thing happened that happened against Belleville East last week. The girls in the middle and the bottom of the order are starting to get on. When they do that we score runs," said Coach Davis after his team's fifth win of the season.

The Warriors fourth win came Friday as they defeated East St. Louis Assumption by the score of 15-3. Michelle Staggs was the winning pitcher for the Warriors.

Granite City lost a heartbreaker Thursday as the Wood River Oilers overcame a 12-0 Warrior lead to take an 18-13 win.

The Warriors next game is tonight against Belleville West. The match is scheduled for 4 p.m. in Belleville.

Wings Heat Race, Trophy and Feature Null earns sweep at speedway

By JOE SENTER
For the Press-Record

Mike Null made it a clean sweep at Tri-City Speedway Saturday night winning the modified heat race, trophy dash and then the feature event. Null from the Village of Champ, Mo. and driving a Camaro modified, wasted little time as he roared the victory lane in his heat race then came back to take the trophy dash and later the lead on lap number 3 of the 15-lap feature event and went on to win that too.

Ralph Southward was second with C. C. Corbin in third.

Pat Walsh of Kirkwood, Mo. took the sportsman's feature event in his Chevelle No. 97 as Paul Humphrey Jr. and Paul Humphrey Sr. made it a father and son duel for second place only to get tangled up in turn number 1. Humphrey Jr. went on to finish second and Darrel Hoffman was third.

Hoffman also took his heat race as John Wolfmeyer of Kirkwood, Mo. took the trophy dash and his heat race. The street stock feature was won by John Clossen followed by Charley (Pee-Wee) Morris and Jim Wilson. Steve Krause, the local Granite City hot shot, was knocked out in six car pileup as Krause's No. 9 Chevelle was charging for the lead. His car suffered heavy damage. Krause, however, says we will be ready for next Saturday night. Racing every Saturday night-modifieds, sportsmans and street stocks at 7 p.m. Gates open at 5 p.m.

In Charleston This Weekend

Wiser, Brandt qualifies for state track meet

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

BELLEVILLE Two Granite City girls took different routes Friday, but both roads led them to the state track finals at Charleston. Lora Wiser and Debbie Brandt will be in the state competition May 18 and 19 at Eastern Illinois University after qualifying in the Class AA Sectional meet Friday at Belleville.

Wiser found her path to state by finishing second in the 3200-meter race with a 11:28.7 time.

Although the Granite City sophomore stayed in front during seven laps of the run, Wiser lost her lead in the final lap to junior Lisa Jones of Belleville East.

The top two individuals in the sectionals automatically qualify for state.

"I'm really happy now about going to state, although I didn't feel that way right after the race," said Wiser after the meet. She smiled and added, "But you never think straight right after a race. It takes a while to sink in."

Wiser, who finished 16th in the state last year in the 3200-meter run, said she wasn't disappointed in losing Friday's race to Jones.

"She beat me like a lion in the sectional, too," Wiser said. "But I finished ahead of her up at state."

Brandt found an alternate route to state, finishing fifth in the 400-meter dash with a 1:15.7 time. Without an inch to spare, Brandt's toss equaled the 115-foot qualifying standard set by the Illinois High School Association.

Rather dramatically, Brandt's final throw of the day was the one that qualified her for state. Winds, which were incorrectly expected to bring storms into the area Friday afternoon, could have caused the drop in Wiser's and Brandt's performance from last year's Belleville Sectional. At that meet, Wiser finished second in 11:24.5 and Brandt finished second with a 115-foot 10-inch throw. Brandt went on to finish 16th in the state meet.

In team points, the East St. Louis Lincoln Tigerettes collected 96½ points to beat rival East St. Louis Senior with 72 points. The Tigerettes, the defending state champions, qualified all four relay teams for the state championship along with 10 girls in individual events. The Flyers qualified three relay teams and nine girls in individual events.

The Warriors, who had eight points for the meet, also finished fourth in the 1000-meter relay with a 4:19.7 time and fifth in the 400-meter relay with a 32.7 time. However, neither team equaled the qualifying times of 4:02 and 4:06, respectively.

Team results
East St. Louis Lincoln 96½, East St. Louis Senior 72, Belleville East 64, Edwardsville 17, O'Fallon 14, Highland 10, GRANITE CITY 6, Collinsville 7, Alton 6, Belleville West 6½, Jerseyville 2, Alton, Bethalto, Cahokia, Mascoutah,

At Gillespie Sectional

Trojanettes qualify three for state

By ALAN L. GERSTENBECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GILLESPIE Madison High School girls' track coach Luvenia Long was both happy and sad as she left the Class A Gillespie Girls' Sectional Track Meet here Friday night. Coach Long was happy because her 1600 meter relay team finished third in the event to get three team points. Those three points lifted the Trojanettes from a third-place tie to a clean second-place finish in team standings. But, ironically, it was also that finish which led to her gloom.

"I was happy to get the points, but I really thought they could've run a better race," Long said. "To be honest, I was hoping to qualify all four relay teams for the state meet."

AS IT was, the Trojanettes managed to qualify for this weekend's State Track Meet in just three events: the 800 meter medley relay, the 800 meter hurdle, and the 400 meter hurdles. Qualifying in the hurdles for the Trojanettes is ReGina Banks, a four-time state qualifier.

Coach Long explained that her

1600 meter relay team had in the past run a much faster time than they turned in Friday. In fact, Coach Long said, previously the team had run a time just tenths of a second off the winning time set by Waterloo, 4:22.7.

"WE RAN a 4:23, but that was earlier in the season," Long said. "That would've been a great time, but that was a lot earlier in the season and we certainly should have been able to top that," Long said.

The reason the Trojanette Coach cited for her team's inability to run up to its potential in the event hinged on the timing of the event coupled with fatigue.

In Gillespie Friday, the 1600 meter relay was the last race of the evening. The girls who participate in the event were exhausted. Had they been fresher the outcome may have been different, Long said.

IN THE 400 meter relay, the other race that Coach Long thought her tracksters could have placed in, Madison finished third with a time of 32.9, just two tenths of a second behind second place and state qualifier Columbia. State guidelines for state qualifiers stipulate only first- and second-place sectional finishers advance to the state tournament, and those who meet a qualifying standard. The Trojanettes' 400 and 1600 meter relay teams failed to meet either.

Members of those relay teams — 800 meter medley and the 800 meter relay — which did qualify for the meet are Cherri Ware, Jovanna Elton, ReGina Banks, Tammy Deal and Gina Griggs. The teams are identical for both except for Banks and Griggs. Banks runs the third leg of the medley while Griggs runs the third leg of the regular relay.

IN ALL, the Trojanettes' performance in the sectional meet is down from last year's, a meet the Trojanettes won, qualifying in all the relays and Banks in both the 100 and 200 meter relays.

But admittedly, things are different this year. Long said as evidenced by Banks' only hurdlng participation in the 100 meter hurdles. ReGina's times are not as good this year as they were last year," Long said. "Basketball season went longer this year and she may be in

When it comes to resale value, it's tough to top Plymouth Reliant base 2- and 4-door sedans. In fact, recent National Automobile Dealer Associations figures to March 1, 1984, show both 1982 Reliant base Olds Omega, Chevy Citation and Buick Skylark in resale figures. That's something to think about when buying a new car.

No other American-built car combines roomy comfort for six, front-wheel-drive and great mileage like Plymouth Reliant. In fact, at 41 est. hwy. [28] EPA est. mpg Reliant is the highest mileage passenger front-wheel-drive car you can buy!

Reliant is available in 2- and 4-door base sedans and wagons and in luxurious Custom and SE series. If selection is important to you, Plymouth Reliant gives you one of the widest choices in its price class.

Like all Chrysler-built cars, Reliant carries limited warranties on power train and outer body rust-through for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first. Deductible applies. Excludes leases. Ask for details. 5 year/50,000 mile protection: proof of our commitment to quality.

Panthers prove not too tough for WarriorsBy ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

GRANITE CITY — What started as a bad Saturday afternoon for the Granite City High School varsity baseball team could've gotten a lot worse, but didn't.

The Warriors, at 9-13 before Saturday's matchup with highly touted O'Fallon, were flying high, winning seven of their last 11 ball games.

But this was Saturday, and O'Fallon at 16-6 coming into the pairing, could've cared less what successes the Warriors have had lately. But maybe it should have. Because if the Panthers had, maybe they'd have been more prepared for what happened in the bottom of the seventh inning of Saturday's second game of a double-header.

AFTER LOSING the first game, Granite City came back in grand fashion to punned the Panthers in the seventh inning to gain a split.

In the first game of Saturday's twinbill at Varsity Field, the visiting Panthers effectively used two long balls to turn back the Warriors and sophomore hurler Ernie Gray 5-0. In all, the Panthers managed seven hits in the first game while O'Fallon's Ernie Baker allowed the Warriors' just three.

Frustrated, it appeared the Warriors were going to meet a similar fate the second game when the Panthers jumped to a 2-0 lead after two innings.

THE WARRIORS' frustration was apparent on both the playing field and the bench, but climaxed in the fourth inning when umpires ejected a disagreeing Coach Bob Stegemeier.

At that point, the Panthers were cruising along, still holding on to a comfortable 2-0 lead. No one would have blamed the Warriors for losing at that point. And few would have figured otherwise.

Instead, led by assistant Jack Parker, the Warriors battled back in the fifth inning to erase the goose egg on the score board and then later, in what had to be one of the most stirring comebacks at Varsity Field, the Warriors scored four runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to win the contest 5-4. And in the process, Granite City whipped reliever Todd McClure, one of the area's best.

"WE SIMPLY executed when we had to," Parker said afterwards. "People are going to remember what (Gerald) Booker and (Steve) Davis did today for this win. They were important, but their contribution was no more crucial to our victory than (Randy) Thurman's sacrifice bunt, or (Shane) Cole's home run or any other play. Everyone contributed equally to this win."

Parker went on to praise starting pitcher junior Allen Zenggraf and reliever Tim Gray. It was Gray who came in to pitch the final one and two-third innings to pick up the save.

PARKER, who was also Stegemeier's assistant at Granite City North, played the percentages to perfection in the seventh inning. Using high-average, pinch-hitters the Warriors scored four runs on four hits to secure the come-from-behind victory.

"Basically, I just went with the high percentage hitters. We know who the high percentage hitters are. It's something you have to do sometimes to win."

In all, Parker pinch-hit and re-entered five of seven athletes in the seventh inning and each time those athletes responded with either a hit or a successful sacrifice.

"IT'S HARD to tell a kid that you're going to have a teammate pinch-hit for him because he's not hitting well right now or someone stands a better chance than he of hitting," Parker said. "But everyone has slumps. I went with the guys who were hitting well for us right now."

After the game, no one was questioning Parker's tactics. They were all too busy celebrating the victory. Everyone but the Panthers and O'Fallon coach Bob Hodgdon.

Obviously upset with his team's loss and inability to stop the surging Warriors, Hodgdon stormed off the field after the game saying he had "Nothing to say" about the game. ON THE other side of the field, Coach Stegemeier found a little bit of humor in Hodgdon's behavior.

"Bob's okay," Stegemeier said of O'Fallon's Hodgdon. "I guess he's a lot like me. He wants to win so bad he lets it get to him," Stegemeier said jokingly.

Referring back to the game, Stegemeier called the Warrior victory "an exciting ball game to watch, even from the drinking fountain." After being ejected, the Warrior coach watched duration of the game from the area around the drinking fountain.

"That's the most excited I've seen them get in some time," Stegemeier said of his team during their comeback. "I'm proud of the way they came back. We're showing signs of being a good hitting ball club when we have to," Stegemeier said.

TRAILING 2-0, the Warriors picked up their first run in the fifth inning as junior Scott Grote batted in sophomore Dennis Gaudreault who reached on a walk. Grote's hit, only the second of the game for the Warriors, was enough to send Hodgdon to the mound to retire starting hurler Scott Vickery.

After the Warriors' one-run fifth, O'Fallon retaliated in its sixth for two runs to take a 4-1 advantage. O'Fallon's Chris Clark tripled to the right-center field gap and then scored when Bruce Morrison tripled to same location.

The Panthers picked up their second run of the inning when Jeff Schmitt grounded out to Warrior first baseman Keith Conkley which scored Morrison.

WITH A 4-1 margin headed into the seventh an O'Fallon victory seemed imminent, but someone forgot to tell the Warriors.

Cole, who re-entered for Conkley, led the inning off when he homered over the left-center field fence 340 feet away.

Burgess, pinch-hitting for John Conkley, singled to left-center field, advanced to second when McClure walked Tom Adamiis, advanced to third on Thurman's sacrifice bunt and then both he and Adamiis scored when Booker singled to center field.

With the score tied at four, Davis came to the plate pinch-hitting for senior Terry Rujawitz.

"I WAS really shaky when I went in, but I felt like I could hit him," Davis said of McClure. "I've been hitting well and when I connected I knew in an instant that it was a good one. It was definitely my biggest thrill," Davis said.

Davis, who has been sidelined from his shortstop position because of a dislocated thumb, singled to left field. His shot, which was just out of reach of O'Fallon shortstop Rob Hinkle, singled in Booker from second base for the winning run.

"I knew I had to make contact," Booker said of his two-RBI single after the game. "I had two strikes on me and all I was concerned with was making contact.

"I JUST hope we can learn from this," Booker said. "I hope this will help us towards getting ready for the regional. Winning records are important, but we've got to be concerned about that too."

The Class AA Regionals begin May 22, but before that the Warriors have to contend with a handful of ball games, most importantly this afternoon's matchup with Gateway East Conference rival Cahokia.

The Warriors, now 10-14 and 2-2 in the GEC, still have a shot at tying for the conference title, but to do that they must sweep both games from the Comanches. Action begins at 4 p.m. at Varsity Field.

BANKS won one 100-meter hurdles with a time of 1:6.0, bettering Mt. Olive's Kratochvil by a mere tenth of a second. Last year Banks ran the same event in 1:5.9, a full second faster than the time she turned in Friday.

In the other two events in which Madison qualified for the state tournament, the Trojanettes finished first in the 800 meter medley relay with a time of 1:56.7 and second in the 600 meter relay with a time of 1:54.3.

In the 800 meter medley, Litchfield was second and also qualified for the state meet with a time of 1:58.7. Host Gillespie was the winner in the 800 meter relay with a time of 1:53.1, edging the Trojanettes' performance by a mere two-tenths seconds.

WATERLOO dominated the meet, finishing with 47 team points, 24 points ahead of the second-place Trojanettes. The Bulldogs were boosted by outstanding performances by Jennifer Berry and Julie Hartmann.

Berry not only outdistanced other competitors in the long jump with a leap of 16-feet 8-inches for first place, but she showed her versatility as she finished second in the shotput with a toss of 31-feet 1/2-inches and also finished first in the 100 meter dash with a time of 13.3 seconds.

This weekend's state meet, held at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston, begins on Friday at 8:30 a.m. with the field events. At 9 a.m. action begins with the 400 meter relay preliminaries.

Baker soccer camp registration

Granite City High School soccer coach Gene Baker has slated his annual soccer camps in June this year. And, as last year, the site of the camps will be the St. Elizabeth School soccer fields.

The Warrior coach will instruct four camps during a two-week period, a boys' and girls' camp beginning June 11 and a second pair of camps the following week of June 18.

The cost of the camp is $50 per camper and $80 for two campers in the same family. The $6 fee will also apply if campers elect to attend camps both the first and second weeks.

To register for the camps, persons may call (314) 355-2374.

Madison city to lease property from school district

Members of the Madison City Council passed a set of resolutions last week, which will allow the city to lease school district property for use as a playground area for residents.

The land which will be used is the site of the former Madison Junior High School. It is adjacent to property, already owned by the city, that is being used for recreational purposes. The school property is vacant and has not been used by the school district for several years.

According to the lease, the city agrees to pay the school district $1 for each year the lease is in effect.

The city also agrees to keep the land in the same state of repair as it was when the lease began, excepting for normal wear and tear, and damage from the weather.

The lease is in effect for five years, however, either party may terminate the agreement by giving 30 days written notice.

In other business, members of the council accepted a letter of resignation from Norris G. Horton, a Madison police officer. Mayor Mike Sasyk said that the city's finance committee will be meeting shortly to discuss a possible replacement for Horton.

Alderman Don Garrett said that he feels the city should hire a black officer to replace Horton. "He (Horton) was the only black officer on the force and I think a black man should be considered for his replacement," he said. "The city is 40 percent black and I think the police department should reflect that. It's going to be an awfully long, hot summer."

Sasyk said he would take Garrett's comments into consideration. Sasyk also made comments concerning a Forum letter that was published in the May 7 edition of the Press-Record. The letter, written by a Madison resident living in the 800 block of Washington Ave., criticized the city's police and ambulance services. The letter said both services had taken 20 minutes to respond to calls from residents. The incident with the police department allegedly happened on April 24.

After reading the letter, Sasyk asked for Police Chief Don Bridick and Fire Chief Mike Macek to comment on the accusations.

"I looked back in the logs from April 21 to April 27 and we did not have any calls in the 800 block of Washington," said Bridick.

Macek said that, although there had been several calls in that area, the response time of the ambulance department had never been anywhere near 20 minutes.

After hearing these comments, Sasyk said, "I have asked the newspaper on numerous occasions to give us a chance to respond before they print this stuff in the paper. I don't mind if the paper writes to criticize, if the information is true. But this type of thing belittles the organization."

"If someone makes false allegations, that person is wrong and the newspaper is wrong for printing it. And this article...the part that tickles me about the whole thing is when they (the letter writer) say their neighborhood is going to pot. If this person was sincere about this, why didn't they call their alderman about it? They should have at least given us the chance to answer their complaint," Sasyk said.

Book GC man, 43, on assault charge

Glenn G. Hunt, 43, of 160 Arlington Drive, was charged with assault when taken into custody last week at Routes 203 and 162.

Hunt was identified by two women residents at Kirkpatrick Homes, one of whom alleged that he threatened her, saying another man had sent him and that he had a weapon in his car and would "blow her head off."

The woman who was threatened was visiting a neighbor when she saw a man go up to her apartment door and knock. She asked him what he wanted and the man replied that he was "out to party and have a good time," she alleged, noting that she didn't know the man and told him to leave.

It was after the alleged threat was voiced that the neighbor called police and his description and that of the car he was driving was provided. Earlier this week, the same woman told police her former husband, who has been living in California and is not Hunt, came to the apartment and struck her ribs and head with some type of small club. The ex-husband also threatened to take her son away and kicked her while she was lying on the floor, she said.

ALLEGES PAIR FAILS TO HEED EARLIER WARNING

Phillip J. Schabily, 19, of 2633 Delmar Ave., was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor last week, when his auto was halted on Madison Avenue at 24th Street.

A 16-year-old Madison girl with Schabily was charged with a curfew violation and was released to her mother on notice to appear before juvenile authorities.

A police officer noted that he had told the girl to go home a few minutes after midnight because of the curfew regulation. At the same time, he also warned Schabily that he would be arrested if seen again that night, reports said.

It was when the pair was seen riding in a car on Madison Avenue that the arrests were made. Schabily also was released on notice to appear for a hearing.

DRIVER, 18, HURT ON MADISON AVENUE

Jeffery L. Cox, 18, of 1415 Niedringhaus Ave., was injured and taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by a relative, following an accident last week in the 2500 block of Madison Ave.

Cox was traveling south when a blue Ford turned left onto Madison Avenue from 26th Street causing him to brake his car and skid on wet pavement, he said. The vehicle spun around, coming to a halt in a backward position in front of a residence. It was noted. There was no contact made with the second car, which failed to stop, Cox said.

CUTS TIRE ON AUTO

Linda Kerr, 4044 Kathy Drive, Pontoon Beach, reported during the weekend that someone cut a tire and took the valve cap from her auto while it was parked at Mr. Donut, 3134 Nameoki Road. Three other tires on her auto recently were cut, she told police.

Willaredt family history reviewed by a relative

The Old Six Mile Historical Society held its monthly meeting at St. John's United Church of Christ, and during the session it was announced that the Madison County Historical Society Museum in Edwardsville is presenting a series of exhibits featuring Madison County history from May 2 through June 10.

The museum is open on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday hours are from 1 to 4 p.m.

The program for the evening was a presentation of the history of an old Granite City family, the Willaredt family, given by Lovella Willaredt Hackethal.

Gottlieb Willaredt, Mrs. Hackethal's grandfather, was the first of the Willaredt family to arrive in America. He was born in Otoschwendan, Baden, Germany in 1848. He boarded a steamer in France on Oct. 18, 1866, and arrived in New York on Nov. 22, 1866. His father, the son of a poor laborer, died when Gottlieb was five years old, leaving his mother and three sisters.

In summer Gottlieb worked as a bricklayer. In the winter he and his brother split wood in the forest so the family could have food and heat. Many times they had only a slice of dry, hard bread to eat, the speaker explained.

As Gottlieb grew older there was much unrest and talk of war in Germany. When he was 18 his mother borrowed money to send him to America.

With his traveling companion, Ziebold, he boarded another ship in New York and arrived in St. Louis 20 days later. The next day they traveled to a place near Mitchell to see John Schilling, Gottlieb's brother-in-law. He lived with them for three months, working for room and board. Then he found another place where he received $16 per month in addition to room and board. In 3 years he saved $100, which he loaned to a friend who never repaid it. He wrote in his autobiography, "Such was the beginning of my life in America, but this did not discourage me, for who trusts in God's unchanging love builds on a rock that cannot move."

Things then began to look up. After seven years he had saved enough to begin farming for himself on Chouteau Island. He owned two horses and a wagon. He sent money to Dorothea Schilling, in Germany, to enable her to come and marry him with the understanding that the fare would be repaid if she came but didn't marry him.

Dorothea, who was 14 years old when she left Germany, arrived and married him in St. Louis six days before her fifteenth birthday in June of 1863. The newlyweds returned to Chouteau Island where they spent the remainder of their lives.

As they accumulated savings, other members of the family came to America. Gottlieb's mother, Katherine Elizabeth Buhler and his two sisters, Christina and Katharine, came to America in 1874. His younger sister, Rosina had died at the age of 19.

Dorothea and Gottlieb's first child, Gottlieb, was born in 1877 and John was born in 1880. In 1880, Gottlieb's mother, age 55, Dorothea's sister, Annie age 20, brother, John 17, and a hired hand were living with them.

More children followed: Louisa in 1881, Annie in 1883, Lois in 1884, Minnie in 1890, Emil in 1891, Otto in 1894, Henry in 1896, and George in 1897. When George was nine months old their mother died. Gottlieb wrote that his wife's death was a terrible blow "The Lord helped me in a wonderful and glorious way, enabling us to carry on."

The Willaredt home was located just south of the warter works. None of the buildings survive, they were washed away by flood. He lived with his son, Otto, and his family until his death in 1938. Sons George and Emil also lived on Chouteau Island. As anyone from this area knows, when you live next door to the Mississippi floods it becomes part of a family moved to higher ground and the animals were moved to the hayloft.

In 1888 another Willaredt, Gottlieb C. known as G.C. stopped on Chouteau Islands on his trip from Germany. He was 16 years old. He stayed four years then moved to Emery, S.D., where he worked as a farm hand then opened a butcher shop. He married Essie Bonk, in 1897. Six children were born to this family: Chris, Fanny, Gottlieb, Elizabeth, Henry and Raymond.

Two of the Chouteau Island Gottlieb's sons, Emil and Otto, visited the family in Emery and two romances bloomed. G.C.'s daughter, Fanny married Emil and Elizabeth married Otto.

Gottlieb and Essie remained in South Dakota until 1920. They then moved back to Granite City where he worked at Granite City Steel for 37 years. His wife, Essie died in 1944. In later years G.C. lived with his son Raymond and then with his daughter, Fanny, until his death on Oct. 13, 1960 at the age of 90. One grandson, Paul lives in South Dakota where he still farms and raises cattle.

In 1888 Gottlieb and Dorothea had seven children of their own and Dorothea's mother also lived with them. Another family of Willaredt's came from Germany to live with them. It was shortly after the death of their parents that Carl William and Anna Marie (Annie), age 23, Louise, age 16, Lena and Charles, age 7, Annie's husband, and their two year old daughter left Germany for Chouteau Island. G.C. Willaredt and the children of Carl William Willaredt were half cousins of Gottlieb Willaredt of Chouteau Island.

The Willaredt family, although they immigrated from Germany were not of German descent. Roland Willaredt, born in southern France in 1879, was a cavalry captain in the Thirty Years War. In 1642 he settled in Germany and the family name was changed - from Villared to Willaredt.

Gottlieb Willaredt and his wife, Dorothea produced 12 children. Today this family has grown to over 200 descendants.

The next meeting of the Old Six Mile Historical Society will be held on May 7 at St. John's United Church of Christ at 7:30. This will be the society's annual meeting and election of officers.

A panel of speakers, including Ferd Segar, Norman Soechtig, George Engleke, and Alice Hommer Pfroender, will talk about "The Old Country Schools." The public is invited to attend.

Xi Epsilon Chi honors mothers

Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority members celebrated Mother's Day early this year by escorting their mothers to the Goldenrod Showboat on the St. Louis riverfront for dinner and a musical show.

After the dinner hour they viewed a show entitled, "All Night Strut" featuring a four member chorus who sang songs popular in the 1930's and 1940's.

Those attending were, Anastasia Elleff, Mrs. Queenie Elleff, Vicki Thomas, Mrs. Norma Robertson and Candy Thompson and Mrs. Christine Ahlbers.

Reception to honor Vivian Lupardus Dine

The Parents for Special Education are planning an open house reception for Vivian Lupardus Dine who will retire on June 1. All former students, parents, co-workers, friends, relatives and neighbors are invited to attend the social event.

Guests will be received at the Granite City Senior High School cafeteria on Saturday, May 19, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., admission free.

The honoree has an extensive background in Special Education and has taught primary educable handicapped classes in Granite City since 1956. She taught at Logan, Niedringhaus, and Wilson Schools, and previously at several other locations.

After retiring, she plans to remain in the area and continue to serve disabled citizens by providing consulting services, tutoring, and other projects.

Granite Chapter 650 hosts 'Advance Night' program

An Advance Night program was held at the Masonic Temple for Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, opened by Worthy Matron Betty Kelso and Worthy Patron Neal Kelso. Other officers escorted to their stations for the evening were advancing officers Wanda MacDonough and William MacDonough, associate matron and associate patron serving as worthy matron and worthy patron for the evening; Shirley Schwendemann, conductress serving as associate matron and Jack DeCourcy, sentinel and a member of the Professions Training Awards Committee, serving as associate patron, all of whom are members of Granite Chapter.

Guest officers, all of whom are associate matrons and associate patrons of their own chapters, included Doris Anna, Belleville; Aliene Ray, Wood River; Marie Kleiser, Carlyle; Jerilyn King, Mascoutah; Sheila Hayes, Queen City; Linda Potter, Bethalto; Esther Kutzgar, Collinsville; Earline Kutzgar, Monroe; Kitty Rutherford, Brighton; Peggy Hackney, New Hope; Sandie Cornelius, Godfrey; Dorothy Cowell, Randolph; Teresa Lindstrom, Jerseyville; and Ellis Hackney, New Hope.

Past Patron and member of the Eastern Star Home Fund Committee Orvin Dieckmann of Granite Chapter served as sentinel. Mrs. Jolene Keel, worthy patron of New Hope Chapter, served as guest soloist and guest organist respectively, performing specially selected songs throughout the evening.

Associate Matrons Jean Young, O'Fallon and Melba Bailey, Herman, served as candlelighters and Associate Matron Betty Geggie, Sparta, presided at the guest book and distributed programs. Other associate matrons present included: Lillian Deucker, Alton; Una Johnson, Lebanon; Karen Greeling, Agnes Wickfield, and Lillie Wise, Trevon. Presented were Associate Grand Matron Dorothy M. Reynolds, guest of honor; Past Grand Patron George Weimers and Associate Grand Conductress Delene Helton, both were guests in the east; and grand representatives, Ann; Laura Lou Catherine Coulter; grand lecturers, grand chapter committee members, past matrons and patrons, guest conductresses and associate conductresses. Special recognition was given to business instructresses

Rose Bittersdorf of the Rainbow Sweethearts; Betty McClintock of the Night Owls and Corrine Schleuter of the Doves.

It was announced that Associate Matron MacDonough will serve as guest associate conductress at Collinsville, and as guest Esther at Queen City during the month of May. Officers of the chapter draped the altar in memorial of deceased members, Margaret Puckett.

A nosegay of violets with ribbon streamers appropriate to the order was presented to Mrs. MacDonough by chairman of the "Advance Night" committee, Mrs. Betty Ebrecht.

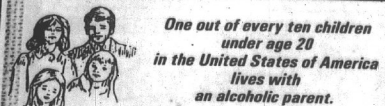

Guest conductresses formed a floral arch for Mrs. Schwendemann and DeCourcy to walk under on their return to their stations after presentation, with orange ribbon tied to each tullester rose stem. The flowers were assembled and placed on a wicker cornucopia shaped basket and presented to Mrs. Schwendemann.

A salad luncheon, prepared by the advance night committee and officers of the chapter, was served following the meeting in the dining room which was decorated with a large rainbow on the stage curtain and favors in the form of rainbows and hearts on the Rainbiv Sweethearts business club's table, owls and cornucopias on the Night Owls table, doves and pink flowers on the Doves table, Dutch boys and girls on the Dutch Maids table, and rainbows on additional tables provided for guests. Also, placecards in the shape of a double heart inscribed with associate matron and associate patron's names, completed the table appointments.

Committees for the "Advance Night" included decorations: Betty Ebrecht, chairman; Dorothy Watkins, Rachel Lee, Mary Stuart, Lois Heblthwaite, Sharon Cory, Shirley DeCorry, Mary French, and Isabel Dieckmann, kitchen: Dorothy Watkins, chairman; Mary Hoover, Rachel Lee, Peggy Gibbons, and Helen Schwendemann, programs: Donna Kagy and Betty McClintock. All officers helped serve in the dining room after the meeting.

MAY MEETING OF ROLLETES CLUB

Mrs. Evelyn Gordon, 2584 Boyle Ave., entertained members of the Rollettes Club at the May session held in her home. Those winning prizes in the evening games were Jeanette Wilson and Edith Wofford. Also attending were Helen Schwendemann, programs: Donna Kagy and Betty McClintock. All officers helped serve in the dining room after the meeting.

WE'RE CELEBRATING OUR 27th YEAR...

We know, as all agronomists know, that the secret to beautiful grass is properly scheduled applications of fertilizer, weed killers to control both grass types (crabgrass) and broadleaf (dandelions-chickweed) weeds and insecticide to control webworms, chinch bugs, etc.

Included in our spray program are applications of SLOW RELEASE NITROGEN THAT NEVER STOPS FEEDING as long as grass is growing and actually slows down it's feeding during periods of low rainfall when it's not needed. If your lawn isn't receiving applications of SLOW RELEASE NITROGEN you're not getting your money's worth.

... THE GREEN LAWS PLAN provides five sprays - early Spring, late Spring, Summer, late Summer, and Fall. It supplies fertilizers just when your lawn needs them. Five broadleaf weed sprays to control dandelion, chickweed, buckhorn, plantain, spurge. Those weeds that seem never to stop coming up from early Spring to late Fall. Crabgrass control in the Spring and insecticide applications in the Summer.

Five Star Club hears program on state parks

"Special Privileges For Senior Citizens" provided by the Illinois Conservation Department was the topic of Lynn Wright, Conservation Specialist, as he spoke to the Five Star Club of Granite City Tuesday.

One advantage is camping in the state parks and this service is free to persons 65 years and older, and offered at one half price to seniors 62 to 64, effective Monday through Thursday, he said. Reservations must be made in advance, the speaker added.

Wright explained that a permanent "Golden Years Hunting and Fishing License" can be obtained for 50-cents, this would also be used as identification for use of state facilities.

A tour of the State Park and Recreation Areas, was given by a colored slide presentation. Everyone was made aware of the thousands of acres maintained by the state and made available for public use.

The Illinois Department of Conservation is presenting a program to honor the vast history of Illinois and its people entitled, "Heritage Days In Illinois." These are special events programs which recreate a specific period of time at historic sites. Special events, by their very nature involve people of all ages, very unique from any experience they may have ever encountered, Wright announced.

LYNN WRIGHT

Additional information regarding these events may be obtained by contacting Horseshoe Lake Recreation Area at 931-0270.

Emilio Alfaro, club coordinator, served cake especially decorated, honoring the Conservation Department to 60 members present. Mrs. Alfaro announced there is still space available for those wishing to visit Ralston Purina research Farms on May 23. If you are 60 years of age and would like to participate in the parties and tours call Mrs. Alfaro at 876-1212, for more information.

Miss Universe pageant topic of Rotary Anns

Mrs. Anita Eftimoff welcomed the Granite City Rotary Anns to her home for a luncheon meeting, last week. Mrs. Eftimoff's program for the day centered around her experiences as a chaperone at the Miss Universe pageant when it was held in St. Louis. She began by outlining some of the financial obligations which a club undertakes when it hosts the event and went on to explain the whirlwind lives and the contestants, and their chaperones, during the 28 days the contest is underway.

A farewell gift was presented to Emily Thebeau who will be moving to Dallas shortly.

Hostesses for the party in addition to Mrs. Eftimoff were Thea Baker, Ruth Ann Bartels, Carol Davis, Lorraine Decatur, Mary Matosian, and Gay Rosch.

Other members attending were Marie Dotzau, Joni Karandjeff, Dorothy Kerch, Betty Mathias, Gail Miller, Thea Suss, JoAnn Terrell, and Emily Thebeau.

A joint installation of officers will be held with the Rotary on May 26 at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

Jane Isenburg is elected president

Jane Isenburg was elected president of Phi Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, at the May meeting held in the home of Betsy Anderson of Hazelwood, Mo.

Others selected to serve for the forthcoming year include: Waneta Graham, vice-president, Carol Dumoulin, secretary, Donna Yehling, treasurer, Connie Martin, sunshine girl, Mrs. Graham, city council representative.

The session opened with all reciting the opening ritual followed by the business segment conducted by the retiring president, Mrs. Graham.

Reports were given by Connie Martin, secretary, and Donna Yehling, treasurer.

The program for the evening was presented by the hostess who displayed a variety of baskets and explained many craft ideas for their use. Handmade linens and smoking were also exhibited to the group, and refreshments were served.

A social meeting was hosted later by the members to honor the chapter president, Jane Isenburg, at the Bombay Bicycle Club in St. Louis. Attending were, Donna Yehling, Connie Martin, Kathy Welch, Betsy Anderson, Carol Dumoulin, Toni Kamulowski, Sharon Barsley, Gena O'Toole and Waneta Graham.

Annual meeting of Garden Clubs of Illinois

"Flower Power" was the theme for the annual meeting of The Garden Clubs of Illinois, Inc., held at the Westin O'Hare Hotel, Rosemont, Ill. The theme was evident throughout the program of activities, which consisted of workshops on World Gardening, How to Have and Hold Membership, How to Apply for Awards, Winning With Roses, The Fragrance Garden at Morton Arboretum, Youth Activities, President Memorial Garden, Garden Therapy, Mini Flower Shows, Energy Awareness and a program on Japanese Floral Design. President Joan Kelly presided over the two day event.

Five members of District V Garden Clubs attended, including Director Dorothy Chamberlain, Mascoutah Garden Club; Dolores Kassy, president of Fairview Heights Garden Club; Wilma Paule, president of St. Clair County Garden Club of Belleville; Mary Ellen Lindsey, president of Cahokia Garden Club and Katie Kaganich, treasurer of Green Oaks Garden Club of Macoupin County. Dorothy Chamberlain gave a memorial service for all deceased garden club members in the state.

The awards banquet was the usual highlight of the meeting. Virginia Kaufhold was presented a special Presidential Citation from Joan Kelly for her outstanding efforts in the district. The district received three awards for their Christmas flower show - a second place cash award for the schedule, a silver ribbon for "Holiday Show Achievement" and a two-tone rose rosette "President's Award" for best show sponsored by a district.

Three awards were received for "Smoky Bear Posters" - for kindergarten through second grade - Christine Kochs, sponsored by Trenton Tumbleweeds, grade three through five - Dana Hans, sponsored by Trenton Tumbleweeds and grade six through eight - Melissa Poneta, Collinsville and sponsored by Lakeview Garden Club.

St. Clair County G.C. of Belleville received a red ribbon for best year book in the district, for Publicity Press Books - small club category - Cahokia G.C. won first place and Lakeview G.C. was awarded third place. In medium club category, Mascoutah G.C. was awarded second place. Mascoutah G.C. received the Naperville Garden Club Scholarship Award for giving the most per member to the scholarship fund. Mary Muentnich, Lakeview G.C. received the Judge Charles R. Barrett Memorial Award for Environmental Achievement for her outstanding effort in submitting the Smokey Bear posters. There were over 800 from District V. All 16 clubs in the district received blue ribbon purple rosette achievement awards. The blue ribbon representing 100 points of achievement was received by Creative Gardeners of Jersey County; Fairview Heights G.C.; Garden Study G.C. of Granite City; Gardenaires G.C. of Granite City; Holiday Shores G.C., Lakeview G.C. of Collinsville and Trenton Tumbleweeds. The purple rosette representing 150 points or over was received by Cahokia G.C.; Cloverview G.C. of Granite City; Collinsville G.C.; Edwardsville G.C.; Green Oaks G.C. of Macoupin County; Mascoutah G.C.; St. Clair County G.C. of Belleville and Shiloh Valley G.C.

Expand summer school, add workshop on math

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Summer school in Granite City in 1984 will be expanded to include elementary and junior high students generally, not just music and gifted pupils.

The extensive high school summer program will continue, and there will be a mathematics workshop. Classes are set to start Tuesday, June 5, and end Tuesday, July 17. The only weekday holiday will be Wednesday, July 4.

General junior high and elementary subjects have not been taught in summer school here since 1975. Due to legal and financial requirements, all summer courses now involve tuition. The six-week session is operated on a self-sustaining basis, with pupils' payments meeting salary and other costs.

MATH WORKSHOP: Russell Chappell, Granite City High School mathematics department head, comments that too often he has heard such statements as—"I wish I'd started algebra but I thought it'd be too hard."

"General math is too easy; I want algebra."

"I can't do algebra. My parents can't help me. I need more background."

"I was bored in math; that's why I got into trouble. I had all this stuff before."

As Chappell sees it, students need to begin their ninth grade course work at levels commensurate with their abilities. To assist a student in verifying where he or she belongs, and to reinforce his or her choice of courses in the math curriculum—high school math or algebra I—Chappell suggests that a student enroll in the summer workshop.

It will be offered for four weeks, five hours per week, starting June 5. Plans call for it to be offered in a time slot enabling a student to take another summer course if desired. There will be no credit for the math workshop, which will cost $12.

Purpose is to assure students where they should start their ninth grade mathematics. Each will be instructed and then tested using the Orleans-Hanna Algebra Prognosis Test.

Based on the results and on the recommendations of math teachers, a student will be placed either in high school math or algebra I.

Another purpose of the workshop will be to give the individual who has enrolled in algebra I a head start in the required curriculum so that he or she can avoid being overwhelmed in the first few weeks of the semester by new material.

GRADE SCHOOL PUPILS: The elementary summer school tuition will be $40. Attendance for grades 1-6 will be from 8:15 a.m. to 10:15 a.m. at Frohardt School, 2640 Johnson Road.

Registration deadline is May 16. A spokesman said, "Some children enroll in elementary summer school for strengthening, reinforcement and relearning in specific areas of study where they have not attained everything they should have during the year."

"Others enroll for the enjoyment of remaining in a learning situation during the summer, when they may investigate subjects not necessarily available during the basic school year."

"Those who enroll in special interest classes with insufficient enrollment can enroll in another class or have their fee refunded." For both primary grades (1-3) and intermediate grades (4-6), one hour will be devoted to fundamentals of arithmetic and one hour to language arts. The language emphasis will be on reading.

Special interest offerings are arts and crafts, astronomy and rocket building, children's theater, science and computer education. Elementary band will be taught at two centers, GCHS, Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road, and Grigsby Junior High, 3801 Old Cargill Road.

The band fee is $12 and registration will be June 4 at 9 a.m. For the six-week band program opening June 5, there will be three 30-minute sessions per week.

Identified gifted pupils in grades 1-8 also will be offered summer instruction.

JUNIOR HIGH: The summer center for grades 7-8 will be Coolidge Junior High, 3231 Nameoki Road. Registration is suggested "as soon as possible."

Summertime attendance hours will be 8-10 a.m. and/or 10 a.m.-noon, with the summer term charge being $40 for each two-hour period selected. It is possible to take one or two courses.

All students who will be in the seventh or eighth grade are eligible.

Classes to be taught are mathematics, language arts, social studies, arts and crafts, computers, reading, making wooden toys and a course on students and the law, including their rights and responsibilities.

Junior high school band will be held at two centers, Grigsby and GCHS, with the fee $12 and the registration occurring June 4 at 8 a.m. For the six weeks that begin June 5, there will be three half-hour classes each week.

HIGH SCHOOL: GCHS summer classes, if at least 20 students enroll for a course, will be oral communication, American literature, images of man, English literature, consumer home management, art I through VIII, physical science, life science.

Also, American history I and II, algebra I and II, pre-algebra, civics and high school mathematics. As noted earlier, a no-credit GCHS mathematics workshop will be conducted.

Freshman composition and freshman literature will be taught for failing students only. Health will be taught to sophomores and juniors. And there will be a senior composition course for summer school graduates only.

The last day of GCHS summer school on July 17 will be a day of mandatory attendance no matter how few absences a student may have.

The tuition fee will be $40 per class for the summer term.

GCHS students may not register for classes in which they are presently enrolled unless there has been a definite failure in that class. Registration to cover a current failure will take place Friday, June 1, until 12 noon.

Basic high school summer registration will occur between 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. May 29, 30 and 31 and between 8 a.m. and noon June 1. Late registration is set for 10 a.m. to noon June 5, 6 and 7.

Except for late registration at the main GCHS office, the summer registration site will be the guidance office.

YMCA DINNER TICKET is sold to Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, right, by David Ferrite, executive director of the Tri-Cities Area YMCA. The dinner, which features Dan Dierdorf of the Big Red Football Cardinals begins at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Charlie's Restaurant in Granite City. TOP STORY— ON CAMPUS—
Grammar workshop 4-8-1—R

Contemporary teachers of English—elementary, middle school, and high school—have problems in grammar, according to Linda Funkhouser, associate professor of English at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

She says these problems are not restricted to errant students, either. She has a big, brown corrugated box to prove it.

"WE JUST received a boxful of textbooks from various publishers," she said. "It is shocking to see the difference in grammatical theory, linguistic analysis, and practical approaches to grammar in these books. All of them are being used somewhere."

Thus English 581: Problems in Teaching English Workshop: Grammar, will focus on texts currently adopted in local school systems. The two-week workshop for all teachers of English, offered under the auspices of Summer University, will meet June 11-15 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., and June 18-22 from 2 to 5 p.m.

The purpose of the course, Professor Funkhouser states, is to sort out the rationales for and the diversity of approaches to syntactical analysis which can be combined, even in a single text.

THE COURSE will begin with broad theory, explaining the three basic theories of syntax: 1) traditional, 2) structural, and 3) generative transformational. Then it will move on to more specific theoretical foundations as they are presented in current school texts.

Finally, Professor Funkhouser, who has closely studied and previously taught grammatical theory and linguistic analysis, will offer a form of common denominator—that is, some basic concepts that pervade all grammar. She will also look at some major ways that differing grammars can supplement each other.

The object will be to develop for each teacher a structure of grammar that is learnable by individual students, one that is logical and reasonable, and practical for the improvement of usage and composition skills. These will be explored as they relate to all grade levels.

DURING THE 10 days of the workshop, there will be ample time set aside for discussion, Miss Funkhouser notes. Teachers will be asked to share their own ideas and approaches.

Letters have been sent to English departments in all schools in the area, inviting a broad range of participation. Registration for the workshop began April 30 and runs until the opening day. For further information and enrollment forms, contact the SIUE department of English language and literature, Box 43, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026 or phone 1-662-3000.

ON CAMPUS— SIUE journalism students 4-24-1—R

Journalism students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville received 10 awards in this year's regional Mark of Excellence contest, including Granite City Resident Michelle Mehan.

SIUE students competed with students from more than 30 schools in the four-state region of Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska. SIUE is included in the region because of its proximity to St. Louis. The Mark of Excellence contest is sponsored annually by the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi (SPJ).

THIS YEAR, 43 awards were presented in the region. First-place winners advance to the national competition to be held later in the year.

Rozanna Motchan, a recent SIUE graduate currently working for Sverdrup, Inc., of St. Louis, received two first-place awards. Mrs. Motchan placed first in the Newspaper Depth Reporting category for a series of stories on video games and first in the Magazine Non-Fiction category for a story on "The Hill," an Italian district in St. Louis.

Paige St. John, wife of Steven Wayne Rotach of Staunton, received a first-place award in the Newspaper Feature Article category for a personality profile of Dakin Williams, brother of playwright Tennessee Williams.

IN THE DEPTH category, SIUE swept the results with second and third-place awards going to Pat Hughes of Edwardsville and Diane Ruby-Schuetz of Bethalto, respectively. Two of six honorable mentions in the category were also received by SIUE students.

Fred Wickman, SPJ regional director reported "judges said overall quality of print entries was extremely high, especially in the Depth category."

This year's contest marked the first time SIUE broadcast students received awards. Betsy Semon of Menomonee Falls, Wis., finished third in the category of Radio Documentary for a feature on the decline in the quality of poetry. Lou Tevlin, a recent graduate and now sports producer for KMOX-TV, St. Louis, finished third in the category of Television Non-Deadline for a story about the use and abuse of steroids by metro area weightlifters.

OTHER SIUE STUDENTS who placed in the Mark of Excellence contest were: Michelle Mehan of Granite City, third place for newspaper feature article; Paige St. John and Mary Dempster of Florissant, Mo., who tied for third in the Newspaper Editorial category, and Scott Cousins of Alton, who finished second in the Feature Photography category.

Honorable mentions in the Depth Reporting category were received by Brad Welschman of Belleville and Michelle Mehan.

Other Area Colleges

VALERIE PARMLEY of Granite City is a recipient of a 1984-85 competitive graduate award from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The awards recognize and encourage students who have shown outstanding potential through their past academic achievements. The awards include a stipend of $400 per month and a remission of tuition and some fees for the academic year.

JOHN CHRIS KEFALAS, of Granite City, graduated from Duke University, Durham, N.C., with a bachelor of science degree in engineering. He is the son of Chris Kefalas, 2484 Waterman Ave.

TWO RESIDENTS of Granite City recently graduated from Western Illinois University, Macomb, Ill. Graduating were Terry Gene Singleton, with a bachelor of business degree, and Jennifer Sue Vaughn, with degrees in applied science and bachelor of science.

SIU at Edwardsville

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY at Edwardsville University Theater will hold open-call, non-equity auditions for principal men and singing/dancing chorus men and women for the Summer Show-Biz '84 production of Lerner and Lowe's "My Fair Lady," Wednesday and Thursday, May 16 and 17.

Auditions will be held in Room 2039 of the Communications Building on the Edwardsville campus from 4 to 7:30 p.m. Those auditioning should prepare a two-minute monologue and a popular show song. They should also bring their own sheet music to the audition.

"My Fair Lady" posters Aug. 2 through 4 and 9 through 12. Rehearsals begin June 25. Additional information may be secured by calling 1-692-2773.

MORE THAN 500 SOUTHERN Illinois University Press books will be on sale at prices running from 50-cents to $3, in the basement lounge of Lovejoy Library auditorium at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The two-day sale will be conducted Tuesday and Wednesday, May 15 and 16, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There also will be books on sale from the university presses of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Tennessee, along with a table of books of regional interest. Prices on these books will range from $1 to $3. A number of recordings under the Pleasure label will sell for $1. Recent Southern Illinois University Press titles will be available at a 25-percent discount.

"CHINA AND THE U.S." will be discussed at 10:30 a.m., Wednesday, May 16, in the Mississippi Room on the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Ronald Glosop, professor of philosophical studies, will lead the discussion, which is sponsored by the Metro-East Institute of Lifetime Learning as part of "Great Decisions," a program founded by the Foreign Policy Association to help Americans increase their understanding of U.S. foreign policy.

Registration under way at GCC

Registration for summer classes at Belleville Area College's Granite City Center is now underway.

Students may register at GCC in person or by phone. The center is at 4950 Maryville Road in Granite City. The telephone number is 831-0600. REGISTRATIONS will be taken at the center from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Fridays. Only registrations for courses offered at GCC can be taken by phone.

Students may also register at Belleville Area College, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville. Registrations will be taken there from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Fridays.

There will be no registration Memorial Day, Monday, May 28. REGISTRATIONS for classes ends Wednesday, May 30. Classes begin Monday, June 4.

BAC computer team takes second

Belleville Area College placed second in the college's first computer contest. BAC scored 73 points just behind Lewis and Clark Community College's winning score of 75.

The BAC team consisted of Don Dissler, John Hartwig, Chris Weiss, Dave Anlatimo and Jim Wright.

EACH SCHOOL brought its own equipment. Teams were given five programming problems and points were awarded for inaccurate answers and amount of time spent on each problem. The team with the fewest points won.

The first and second place teams had all five answers correct. Lakeland Community College, which finished third, had four correct answers.

Florissant Valley Community College of St. Louis and Granite City Center of Belleville area College also participated. The competition was part of Computer Week at BAC.

Scouting

Troop 5 holds court of honor

Boy Scout Troop 5, sponsored by Nankook United Methodist Church, held a court of honor at the church attended by approximately 75 people. The opening flag ceremony was conducted by the Viking Patrol followed by a welcome by Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Eric Wolf.

Ron Bailey was introduced along with several cub scouts representing Pack 22 from Prohardt School. The cubs were invited to consider joining Troop 5 when they are ready to advance to a troop.

The following scouts were recognized by Advancement Chairman Tom Senecyn for advancement in rank: scout: Jarrod Davis; tenderfoot: Tom Moslander and Jarrod Davis; second class: Tim Chandler, Ron Fields, Jason Fields, Eric Warnhoff, Tom Senecyn, Tom Moslander; first class: Steve Poling; life: Mike Schuette and Brian Forbes.

Skill awards were presented by Mike Schuette to conservation: Tim Chandler, Ron Fields, Jason Fields; first aid: Tom Moslander and Chad Lignoul; camping: David Look and Tim Chandler; swimming and environmental science: Steve Poling; cooking: David Look; communications: Chad Lignoul, Ron Fields, David Look, Richard Schardan, Tim Moslander, Tim Chandler, Eric Warnhoff, Jarrod Davis, Jason Fields, Tom Senecyn; family living: Tom Moslander and Jarrod Davis; physical fitness: Tim Chandler, Tom Moslander, and Jarrod Davis.

Merit badges were presented by Mike Maier to Mike Dawson for model design and communications; Steve Poling for pets, first aid and citizenship in the world; Eric Wolf for printing; Mike Schuette for citizenship in the world and citizenship in the nation; Brian Forbes for citizenship in the community and citizenship in the nation.

John Hanson gave a report on the various outdoor activities of the troop since the last court of honor. In spite of the weather, 30 scouts and adults camped at the Lion's Den in February. Eleven scouts and four dads participated in a 12-mile "Gateway Historical Trail" hike through downtown St. Louis in March. The following received patches for completing the hike: John Tucker, Eric Warnhoff, Jeff Wiehardt, Mike Dawson, Eric Kuenkler, Jarrod Davis, Chad Lignoul, Tim Chandler, Steve Poling, Jason and Ron Fields.

The troop also participated in the "Slash and Dash" clean-up at Wilson Park and in the Scout-O-Rama.

Pat Busch reported on the recent rummage sale held by the troop. The money earned will be used to pay a portion of each scout's fee to attend Camp Sunnen in the summer, he said.

Scoutmaster Jack Dawson welcomed Gary Marsala as a new member of the troop, and the closing ceremony was conducted by the Cobra Patrol followed by refreshments served by the mothers.

circle 885 to 1-14-2

Our Lady of Fatima Circle 885, Daughters of Isabella, held its May meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall last week, and discussed plans for the state and national conventions. The state convention will be held in Peoria, this month and the state convention will be held in Kansas City, in August.

Regent Dorothy Hoedebeck opened the meeting and the Rev. Melchor Toczek, circle chaplain, offered prayer.

Vera Carey read the minutes of the last meeting and all other officers gave their reports.

Celebrating birthdays were Clara Schillinger and Frances Gallus. The refreshment committee for the month of June will be Jeanette Scannell, Roy Mary Scaturro, Anna Marie Schwaab, Clara Schillinger, Teresa Schuler, Mildred Shiffer, Olive Sigite, Frances Skubish, Joan Stanton, Theresa Straubinger, and Marie Szymek, the regent announced.

Pack 103 scouts earn badges and arrow points

St. Margaret Mary's Cub Scout Pack 103, held its monthly pack meeting in the school cafeteria. Cubmaster Larry Dillard welcomed prospective cub scouts and their parents.

Webelos Badges were presented to Nick McLaren and Chris Cupples by their parents. Naturalist and scientific badges were presented to Jeff Seiz, Scott McKenzie, Neal Zimmerman, Jason Brown, Chris Cupples and Nick McLaren, aquanaut badge to Jeff Seiz, athletic badge to Jason Brown, Neal Zimmerman and Nick McLaren.

Also, bear badges were presented to Matt Cauble and Jason Dillard, silver arrow points to Eric Brown and Matt Costello, and a gold arrow point was presented to Brian Seiz.

A demonstration by the Webelos Den was given on scientific experiments used to achieve their scientific badges, followed by the treasurer's report given by Mrs. Christie Green.

Refreshments were served to the scouts and their families during the social hour and registration was held by Dillard and Ron Luebben, special advisor for new cub scouts.

Academy of Friendship night celebrated at Moose Lodge

Granite City Chapter 247, Women of the Moose, held its Academy of Friendship Chapter night and Academy of Friendship dinner, at the Moose Lodge to honor members of the organization, at two separate meetings.

Senior Regent Benetta Boyd opened the session and introduced the Academy of Friendship chairman, Verna Wilson who presented two checks for Mooseheart Recreation Fund, scholarship and maintenance.

Five new chapter members, Sharon McWilliam, Lois Smith, Sharon Hancock, Marliou Wilkinson and Ronda Mayfield, received the degree at Mooseheart Child City from Deputy Grand Regent Angeline Wruck of Roseland, Ill.

Also attending that session was Benetta Boyd, Pat Macke, Mary Hancock, Edna Miller and Marian Lipcomb.

Frank Woods installed as governor of Moose Lodge

Frank Woods was installed as governor of the Granite City Moose Lodge 272 in ceremonies held at the lodge, followed by a dinner and dance.

James Tadlock served as installing governor and Walter Anders was the installing sergeant-at-arms.

Other new officers for the forthcoming year include: Vernon Johnson, junior past governor; Bill Hubert, junior governor; Charles Hester, prelate; David Pulley, treasurer; Virgil Singler, secretary; Virgil Flowers, one year trustee; Bud Reeves, two year trustee; George Gultues, three year trustee; Robert Thomason, sergeant-at-arms; Ben Voyles, inner guard and Paul Ledermann, outer guard.

Escorts for the officers were Karen Anders, Millie Votupal, Betty Schmid, Cindy Ruthmeyer, Sue Singler, Sharon Hancock, Nancy Woods, and Pat Thomason. Officers of the Granite City Moose Lodge 272, filled the officer stations and Junior Regent Delilah Kramer, assisted the installing governor.

After receiving the gavel, Woods introduced his wife, Sylvia who is a past regent of Chapter 247, his son Frank Jr., daughter, Nancy, and a cousin, Carl Robinson.

Music for the ceremonial was provided by Al Rezakab at the piano and Gary Hudson, guitarist. Vernon Johnson, the retiring officer, presented a gift to each of the officers and lodge members who assisted him during his term of office. His wife, Clara, distributed the presents.

The dinner was prepared by Junior Governor Bill Hubert and music for dancing was by the band of Gary Hudson.

Honor police killed while on duty

Illinois State Police and law enforcement agencies throughout the area are observing National Peace Officers Week May 13 - 19. Tomorrow, May 15, has been designated as Police Memorial Day.

More than 2,000 police officers have been killed in the line of duty during the past 12 years. In 1983, in the U. S., 78 law enforcement officers were killed, down 14 from the 1982 total of 92.

A breakdown of the 1983 figures shows 14 officers were killed in connection with robberies and burglaries and an additional 10 while attempting arrest for other serious crimes.

Fifteen officers were slain while handling disturbance calls, 12 while enforcing traffic laws and 10 while investigating suspicious persons. Ten were slain in ambush situations. Records also show that 53 of the 78 officers were slain by handguns. Three officers were intentionally struck by vehicles, two were stabbed to death and one was beaten to death.

Supt. L. A. Nargelinas has directed all state police officers to wear the official black mourning band across their badges on May 15. Also, the official flag of mourning will be flown at all state police facilities from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in lieu of the State of Illinois flag.

During the 22 years of Illinois State Police existence, 53 troopers have met their demise in the line of duty. Those killed in District 11 were Trooper Jeff McDonald on July 10, 1930; Trooper Robert R. Thomas on May 15, 1942; Trooper G. Froelich on Sept. 1, 1947; and Trooper A. E. Goetting on Feb. 4, 1951.

Captain Bobby L. Henry Sr., commander of District 11 at Collinsville, said about 20 Illinois State Police officers will participate in the second annual memorial service on Wednesday, May 16. This service will be held at St. Henry's Catholic Church in Belleville at 9:30 a.m. to honor all city, county and state officers killed in the line of duty.

GC Elks Lodge 1063 names 'Teenagers of the Month'

Lisa Lilley and Norman Kinder III have been named teenagers of the month for April, it was announced today by Granite City Elks Lodge 1063. Both young people are seniors at Granite City High School and will graduate in June.

Miss Lilley, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Buehler, 2590 Stratford Lane.

Scholastically, she has a grade point average of 4.759 out of a possible 5.0 and is ranked 21st in a class of 450.

She has been active in the National Honor Society, Thespians Speech Club, Spirit Club and Miners. She has been vice president of the Varsity Club and participates in volleyball, softball and basketball. Miss Lilley is also a diving team champion. She has been voted best girl athlete in the 1984 senior class.

Her hobbies include sports, diving and needlepoint. Kinder, 19, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kinder, 2554 Waterman Ave., has been active in the Lettermen's Club, basketball, special ed. bowling team and Special Olympics.

Lisa Lilley Norman Kinder

He is a member of Explorer Post 10-4 in Madison and is presently a co-op student working in the newsroom of the Granite City Press-Record. His favorite hobby is bowling.

Both seniors participated in the May Carousel last week. Miss Lilley as a member of the queen's court and Kinder as an escort.

The teenagers of the month program is sponsored by the local Elks lodge in an effort to bring recognition to outstanding teenagers in the community. Their selection is based upon citizenship, scholarship and leadership.

2 join Private Industry Council

Rural postmen offer more than just mail delivery

Area residents may conduct postal business outdoors this spring, Postmaster Jack D. Wilkins of Granite City Post Office said today.

"Our rural delivery vehicles function as post offices-on-wheels," explained Wilkins. "As rural customers catch 'spring fever,' we'll be there to serve them."

Rural carrier services include stamp and money order sales, parcel pickup and acceptance of registered and Express Mail. Business transactions are completed on-the-spot, at delivery stops along each route.

"These open-air post offices are a world apart from their city counterparts," said Wilkins, "yet they bring a wide range of postal services right to your door."

"Rural delivery developed a personal touch in its early days," he said, "bringing families food, newspaper, tobacco, dry goods, and items that were otherwise difficult to get."

"Today, for some older residents who live in secluded areas, rural carriers serve as a lifeline to the outside world, bringing food to shut-ins during emergencies or alerting the telephone company when a storm interrupts service," he said. "Likewise, on a clear spring day, the rural carrier's post office-on-wheels makes sure some of that personal touch remains, the postmaster said."

Early Madison school dismissal on Wednesday

Madison Community Unit District 12 elementary schools will have an early dismissal on Wednesday, May 16, for a teacher's meeting. Students in Blair and Harris schools will be dismissed at 2 p.m. The Louis Baer and Middle schools will be dismissed at 1:45 p.m.

Parents of students attending these schools should make arrangements for their children, a spokesman said. Madison High School will follow its regular schedule.

SHOPPING SPREE BY YOUNG MADISON GIRLS
Two 11-year-old Madison girls were taken into custody last week at K-Mart, 3655 Nameoki Road, after an apparent shopping spree in at least four stores.

The girls were stopped outside K-Mart when employees noticed that one girl was wearing new tennis shoes and neither had come through the checkout lanes.

A paper sack carried by one girl contained items from Walgreen Drugs, Schnucks and the Kroger store, none with cash register receipts, reports said.

Among the merchandise believed stolen from K-Mart were two pairs of tennis shoes, two pairs of slacks and a handbag. Other findings in the bag included greeting cards, pens, notebook and writing tablets from Walgreen's, and socks, playing cards and cosmetics from Kroger and Schnucks.

It was understood where other cosmetics, a blouse, purse, books and a cigarette case in the bag were obtained, reports said.

The girls were released to their parents and are to appear before juvenile authorities.

Knollman resigns from the housing authority

Members of the Granite City Council accepted the resignation last week of Dave Knollman from his position with the Granite City Housing Authority.

In his letter, Knollman, vice president of First Granite City Savings, said, "I was honored when you appointed me to serve as a commissioner for the Granite City Housing Authority. It is a fine board and you have an excellent man running the operation in the Jim Morgan."

"I attended almost every meeting since being appointed and enjoyed them very much. However, my workload is the point where I can no longer attend."

Knollman, a native St. Louisan, moved to Granite City 15 years ago. He resides in Granite City, with his wife, Pat. They have two daughters, Amy and Wendy.
